JERRY RICHARDSON

OWNER/FOUNDER

WOFFORD COLLEGE
BORN JULY 18, 1936
TWENTIETH NFL SEASON / TWENTIETH PANTHERS SEASON

Jerry Richardson is a native Carolinian whose dream was to bring NFL football and the world championship he knew as a player in the League to his home. With the Panthers in their second decade, Richardson has firmly established the NFL into the Carolina landscape while dedicating his efforts to making the rest of his vision a reality. He is the only person to be inducted into both the North and South Carolina Business and Athletic Halls of Fame.

On October 26, 1993, Richardson became the first former NFL player since George Halas to become an owner when the Carolinas were unanimously awarded the NFL's 29th franchise. Most recently, Richardson played a pivotal role as Co-Chairman of the NFL Executive Committee in reaching an unprecedented 10-year Collective Bargaining Agreement with the NFLPA last summer.

"Jerry Richardson has always put himself out there to take those tough jobs and get it done in a way it reflects well on the NFL and this franchise," says NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell of Richardson's efforts on behalf of the League as well as his Panthers.

A lifelong resident of the Carolinas, Richardson and his wife, Rosalind Sallenger Richardson, have two sons, Jon and Mark, and a daughter, Ashley Richardson Allen, of Charlotte. The Richardsons have nine grandchildren and live in Charlotte.

Edited excerpt from Johnny Unitas: America's Quarterback

A LASTING IMPRESSION

Jerry Richardson, a tall, shy receiver was one of the newcomers to the Colts in 1959. Like Unitas, he came from a small college. He had played college football in South Carolina at Wofford College, and Richardson always seemed to be explaining just where Wofford was.

There were approximately one dozen other receivers running around trying to make a lasting impression, one that would enable them to fill the sole spot on the roster. Richardson's chances were not exactly promising, being taken in the 13th round and the 153rd player overall.

Unitas saw the underdog in Richardson, who had married his college sweetheart, Rosalind Sallenger. When training camp opened for the 1959 season, Richardson had no way to get to practice, so Unitas helped him out. He picked him up in the front of the rented house every morning to drive him to camp. They got along fine. Unitas didn't talk, and neither did the rookie, which suited them both.

THE TOUCHDOWN CATCH

Late in the 1959 championship game, was Baltimore head coach Weeb Ewbank thinking of a field goal to give the Colts an eight point lead in the 4th quarter against the New York Giants? Richardson, the rookie receiver Unitas chauffeured during training camp was waiting to return the favor by bringing in the play that Ewbank wanted.

"I stood next to Weeb and looked at him for the play," recalls Richardson. "I finally asked him what the play was and he remarked, 'Just tell Unitas to score.'"

Given the opportunity to score a seemingly safe field goal or a touchdown Unitas would always go for the six points.

"Raymond Berry was split on the left and would make his cut into the middle underneath the linebacker. I lined up close to the tackle and would swing wide to the outside. It really was Berry's play all the way. He had done it a thousand times. But Unitas looked off Berry, and I looked around and saw the ball coming to me. I squeezed it tight and went into the end zone standing up. I never expected the ball and neither did the Giants."

The rookie's touchdown was the clincher. The Colts moved closer to the championship with a 21-9 lead.

DANNY MORRISON

PRESIDENT

WOFFORD COLLEGE
BORN OCTOBER 26, 1953
FOURTH NFL SEASON / FOURTH PANTHERS SEASON

Danny Morrison was named President of the Carolina Panthers on Sept. 2, 2009, but his association with the organization began many years earlier when he oversaw the implementation of the team's training camp at Wofford College. Prior to joining the Panthers, Morrison was in his fifth year as Director of Athletics at Texas Christian University.

Morrison's relationship with the Panthers began in the team's inaugural 1995 season at Wofford College. As Director of Athletics he coordinated a fundraising effort that enabled the school to refurbish its facilities to host an NFL training camp. The Panthers have now been at Wofford for 18 straight years and the training camp is regarded among the best in the NFL.

In his capacity as team president, Morrison is responsible for the Panthers business operations and Bank of America Stadium business interests as well as representing the organization in many league matters.

Since assuming duties as president, Morrison has provided energy and direction for the Panthers.

From working closely with Owner/Founder Jerry Richardson to serving as Chair of the NFL Committee on College Relations as well as overseeing a logo refinement, Morrison has immersed himself into the Panthers.

At TCU, Morrison directed the development of the athletic program into one of the most successful in the nation while helping to usher the Horned Frogs into the Mountain West Conference. In the 2008-09 athletic season TCU had 16 of its 20 sports represented in postseason play, finishing with the nation's seventh-ranked football team.

A total of 12 sports were nationally ranked and four conference titles were won with three coaches receiving coach of the year honors. Five of the school's 20 programs were ranked in the top eleven in the nation.

The solid footing established under Morrison was revealed even after his departure when the football team recorded an undefeated regular season and the baseball team advanced to the College World Series. TCU and Florida were the only two schools in college athletics to play in a BCS Bowl game and have a team in the College World Series in 2010.

Prior to going to TCU in 2005, Morrison was Commissioner of the Southern Conference. He had joined the conference office after leaving Wofford, where he was senior vice president, in 2001.

As Commissioner of the Southern Conference, Morrison established numerous progressive initiatives, creating partnerships with corporate entities while expanding and enhancing the television schedule for the conference through various networks.

A native of Burlington, N.C., Morrison attended Wofford, where he lettered four years in basketball and graduated summa cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa in 1975 with a Bachelor of Arts in mathematics. His pursuit of excellence as athletics director earned him induction into the Wofford Athletics Hall of Fame in 2002.

Morrison obtained a Masters of Education in administration and supervision from the University of North Carolina in 1981 and a doctorate in educational leadership from the University of South Carolina in 2000.

He returned to Wofford in 1985 as the school's first full time Director of Athletics and served in that capacity for 12 years, guiding the Terriers from NAIA to Division II to Division 1-AA and membership in the Southern Conference.

The linchpin of that transition was the improvement of the facilities to provide a summer home for the Panthers through a capital improvement plan. Through his guiding efforts, the Panthers began training camp at the school in 1995 and Wofford has successfully transitioned into the Southern Conference, winning the football championship in 2003 and the basketball title in 2010 and 2011.

Morrison and his wife, Peggy, have two children: Trey, a graduate of the University of South Carolina, and Meg, who received her degree from Wofford.

RON RIVERA

HEAD COACH

CALIFORNIA
SIXTEENTH NFL SEASON / SECOND PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: Discipline and structure. Attention to detail and preparation. Hard work. Respect. Teamwork. All of these qualities apply to Ron Rivera, who was named the fourth head coach in Carolina Panthers' history on Jan. 11, 2011.

They were also the qualities he exhibited in his first campaign as the Panthers tripled their win total from the previous season despite no offseason and an epidemic of defensive injuries. Rivera did not even meet his team until they reported to training camp and despite a slow start, held it together to finish with four wins in the final six games.

His success was no surprise, for Rivera has excelled as a coach and player during his 24 years in the NFL, serving as coordinator for the San Diego Chargers top-ranked defense in 2010 and playing linebacker for the Chicago Bears' top-ranked defense and Super Bowl XX championship team in 1985. In 15 seasons as a coach and nine as a player, he has been with teams that have reached the playoffs 16 times, including eight conference championships and two Super Bowls.

The mentality of the Chargers defense that Rivera coached and the Bears defense on which Rivera played resonates within the head coach. But that relentless style isn't limited to the defensive side of the ball.

"We're going to be an aggressive, physical football team, whether we're running the football, throwing the football, pass protecting or tackling," Rivera said before last season. "I want it to be a physical, no-nonsense, get-the-job-done identity."

With that philosophy and the addition of quarterback Cam Newton, the Panthers jumped from last to seventh in total offense in his first season. The defensive development was stymied by perpetually rotating personnel, but by the last six games, the Panthers were steadfast enough for a strong finish.

Rivera's identity has been influenced by two innovative defensive coordinators. As a player, Rivera was coached by Buddy Ryan, the architect of the "46 Defense," which involved blitzing on nearly every down. As a coach, Rivera toiled under the late Jim Johnson, a highly-regarded defensive coordinator renowned for his aggressive approach.

His identity also has been shaped by his family. The son of a U.S. Army officer and the second-youngest of four boys, Rivera learned from a young age about chain of command and many of the principles he teaches and expects from his players.

"Coming from a military background, there's a lot of discipline, a lot of structure. That's how I feel when I coach," Rivera said.

Rivera worked with the San Diego Chargers from 2007-10. He coached inside linebackers before taking over as the team's defensive coordinator midway through the 2008 season.

With Rivera's guidance, the pass defense steadied itself – intercepting nine passes and yielding 229.6 passing yards per game and 11 touchdown passes over the final eight games. Those numbers contrasted to the first half of the season when San Diego notched just seven picks and was victimized for 265.1 yards per game and 14 touchdowns through the air.

In Rivera's first full season leading the defense in 2009, the Chargers ranked 16th in total defense and 11th against the pass. One of the unit's strengths was playing tough after offensive turnovers, giving up only 44 points, a figure that tied New England for the second-fewest in the NFL.

Those rankings improved in 2010 as San Diego led the NFL with an average of 271.6 total yards allowed per game and gave up a league-low 177.8 passing yards per game. Overall, the Chargers finished in the top five in 11 different defensive statistical categories despite not having any defenders selected to the Pro Bowl.

From 2004-06, Rivera oversaw the Chicago Bears defense, engineering the unit to two top-five finishes in the league. Under Rivera's direction, five different defensive players went to the Pro Bowl: linebacker Lance Briggs, safety Mike Brown, defensive tackle Tommie Harris, linebacker Brian Urlacher and cornerback Nathan Vasher.

In his first season as a defensive coordinator in 2004, Rivera presided over a defense that produced nine more takeaways and 17 more sacks than the previous year and scored a franchise record and NFC high six defensive touchdowns. The Bears also thrived on third down and buckled down inside their own 20-yard line, ranking first in the NFL in third-down efficiency (30.5%) and topping the NFC in red zone defense (42.6%).

The following year, Chicago continued to build on the foundation Rivera laid in 2004. The Bears won their first of two consecutive NFC North titles and stood second in the NFL in total defense. In surrendering the fewest points in the league, Rivera's defense went 43 consecutive quarters without allowing more than seven points – the longest streak in the NFL since 1969. Chicago also led the NFL in red zone defense (32.5%) and rated second in third-down efficiency (31.9%).

During Rivera's last season with the Bears in 2006, the defense paced the NFL with 44 takeaways and finished fifth in the league in total defense and third in scoring defense, helping propel Chicago to the NFC Championship and an appearance in Super Bowl XLI.

Prior to becoming a defensive coordinator, Rivera spent five seasons from 1999-2003 as the linebackers coach for the Philadelphia Eagles, who advanced to the NFC Championship game in each of his final three seasons. Twice during Rivera's tenure with the Eagles, the team finished second in the NFL in scoring defense and in 2001 held all 16 of its opponents to less than 21 points – making them just the fourth team in NFL history to do so.

While with Philadelphia, Rivera helped develop linebacker Jeremiah Trotter. In his first year as a starter in 1999, Trotter posted a team-high 202 tackles and subsequently earned Pro Bowl honors in 2000 and 2001. In Rivera's five seasons with the Eagles, a member of his linebacking corps led the team in tackles four times.

Rivera gained his first coaching experience with the Bears as defensive quality control coach from 1997-98.

He is just the third Latino head coach in NFL history, joining Tom Flores with the Oakland Raiders from 1979-87 and Seattle Seahawks from 1992-94 and Tom Fears with the New Orleans Saints from 1967-70.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Following his retirement, Rivera went into broadcasting. He covered the Bears and college football as a television analyst for WGN and SportsChannel Chicago for four years from 1993-96. Selected in the second round of the 1984 NFL Draft by Chicago, Rivera played all nine of his pro seasons with the Bears. Primarily an outside linebacker, he appeared in 149 games with 62 starts (including 12 postseason contests with six starts) and posted 392 tackles, 7.5 sacks, five forced fumbles, four fumble recoveries, nine interceptions and 15 passes defensed. Rivera was a member of six NFC Central division title teams and a Super Bowl XX championship team in 1985.

As a player, Rivera was known for both his skill and determination on the field and his dedication of time and energy to the community. As a result, he was named the Bears Man of the Year in 1988 and earned the club's Ed Block Courage Award in 1989.

An All-American at the University of California, Rivera finished his career as the school's all-time leader in sacks with 22 and tackles with 336. As a senior in 1983, he set the Bears single-season record for sacks with 13 and tackles for loss with 26.5.

Born Jan. 7, 1962 in Fort Ord, Calif., Rivera lived in Germany, Panama, Washington and Maryland before his family settled in Marina, Calif. He attended Seaside High School in Marina and was a three-sport star in football, basketball and baseball.

Rivera and his wife, Stephanie, have two children, Christopher and Courtney. Stephanie is a former assistant coach for the WNBA's Washington Mystics.

ROB CHUDZINSKI

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

MIAMI (FL)
NINTH NFL SEASON / SECOND PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: In his first season as Carolina's offensive coordinator, Rob Chudzinski directed an offensive turnaround as the Panthers set records for total yardage (6,237) and first downs (345) one year after experiencing franchise lows in both categories. The 48 touchdowns scored were second in team history, also one season after recording a franchise low of 17. The Panthers moved from last in total yardage to seventh in the League for the biggest improvement in offensive ranking since St. Louis improved 26 spots from 1998 (27th) to 1999 (1st).

The centerpiece of Chudzinski's offense was quarterback Cam Newton, who became the first player in NFL history to throw for 4,000 yards and run for 500 in his rookie season. Veteran wide receiver Steve Smith, who produced his first 1,000-yard receiving season since 2008, was another weapon in Chudzinksi's offense, helping the Panthers lead the League in explosive plays of 20 or more yards with 90. The running game was equally effective for the Panthers as they became the first team in League history with three 700-yard rushers in DeAngelo Williams (836), Jonathan Stewart (761), and Newton (706). Newton set an NFL quarterback record with 14 rushing touchdowns.

Chudzinski followed head coach Ron Rivera from the San Diego Chargers to Carolina to be the Panthers offensive coordinator. In 17 previous seasons as an NFL and college assistant, he had success leading offenses and earned a reputation for developing tight ends.

As the Chargers tight ends and assistant head coach in 2010, Chudzinski helped San Diego rank first in the NFL in total offense with an average of 395.6 yards per game and second in scoring with an average of 27.6 points per game.

Tight end Antonio Gates excelled during both of Chudzinski's two-year stints on the Chargers coaching staff from 2005-06 and 2009-10. Gates made his seventh consecutive Pro Bowl in 2010, one year after producing a career-high 1,157 yards. In 2005, Chudzinski's first season as San Diego's tight ends coach, Gates registered the only other 1,000-yard receiving season of his career with 1,101 yards on a career-high 89 receptions.

In between Chudzinski's stints with the Chargers, he served as the Cleveland Browns offensive coordinator for two seasons. In 2007, the Browns won 10 games – their most wins since 1994 – and Chudzinski's offense played a key role in the team's success. Cleveland ranked eighth in the league in total offense and scoring, accumulating 5,621 net yards and 402 points.

Four players went to the Pro Bowl: quarterback Derek Anderson, wide receiver Braylon Edwards, tackle Joe Thomas and tight end Kellen Winslow II. Anderson threw 29 touchdowns, while Edwards and Winslow combined with running back Jamal Lewis to give the Browns two 1,000-yard receivers and a 1,000-yard rusher.

Chudzinski began his pro coaching career as Cleveland's tight ends coach in 2004 and worked with Winslow, the team's top draft choice. He was elevated to offensive coordinator for the final five games of the season under interim head coach Terry Robiskie after the resignation of head coach Butch Davis.

From 1994-2003, Chudzinski spent 10 years as an assistant at his alma mater, the University of Miami (Fla.) – three seasons as offensive coordinator, five as tight ends coach and two as a graduate assistant.

During his three years as offensive coordinator, he guided a unit that went 12-0 and won the national championship in 2001 and set school records for points, total yards and rushing touchdowns the next season. In addition, Chudzinski worked with numerous future NFL players, including wide receiver Andre Johnson, running backs Frank Gore, Willis McGahee and Clinton Portis, tackle Bryant McKinnie and quarterback Ken Dorsey.

Promoted from graduate assistant to tight ends coach in 1996, Miami's tight ends flourished under Chudzinski's tutelage. He mentored Bubba Franks, Jeremy Shockey and Winslow, all of whom were All-Americans and became first-round draft picks and Pro Bowl players in the NFL.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: A three-year starter at tight end for Miami (Fla.) from 1986-90, Chudzinski played on national championship teams in 1987 and 1989. He earned a bachelor's degree in business administration in 1990 and added a master's degree in business administration in 1996. Chudzinski and his wife, Sheila, have two sons, Kaelan and Rian, and a daughter, Margaret.

SEAN McDERMOTT

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

WILLIAM & MARY
FOURTEENTH NFL SEASON / SECOND PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: Sean McDermott is in his second season as defensive coordinator of the Panthers following an inaugural season in which he was faced with the challenge of leading a unit that was plagued by injuries after losing starting defensive tackle Ron Edwards and linebackers Jon Beason and Thomas Davis. McDermott's lineup changed week-to-week and it was the second half of the season before the Panthers were able to field the same defensive lineup in consecutive weeks. McDermott's young and inexperienced defense held it together and showed signs of potential as the season progressed, forcing key stops and turnovers that contributed to the Panthers winning four of their final six games in 2011.

McDermott came to Carolina after serving 12 seasons with the Philadelphia Eagles, the last two as defensive coordinator, where he contributed to six division titles. In Carolina, Sean is reunited with head coach Ron Rivera, both joining the Eagles coaching staff in 1999 and working together for five seasons.

Aggressiveness and pressure characterize the play of McDermott's defenses as they forced 72 turnovers his last two seasons in Philadelphia, tied for first in the NFL with Green Bay. Even with last year's defensive instability, the Panthers tied for 16th in the NFL in takeaways.

In 2010, McDermott led one of the League's youngest defenses to another playoff appearance in Philadelphia, finishing the year ranked in the top-10 in takeaways, sacks and negative play yardage.

In his first season overseeing the Eagles defense in 2009, McDermott overcame a rash of injuries to lead a unit that ranked third in the NFL with 38 takeaways, the most by the club since 2002, and 44 sacks. Also, Philadelphia stood second in the league in third down defense, limiting opponents to a 33.0 percent conversion rate, and fifth in yards per play allowed with an average of 5.0 yards per play.

Three of McDermott's players earned Pro Bowl honors: defensive end Trent Cole – who ranked third in the NFC with 12.5 sacks, cornerback Asante Samuel – who tied for first in the NFL with nine interceptions, and safety Quintin Mikell – who notched a team-leading 122 tackles. As a result of his efforts, McDermott was named the NFL's top defensive coordinator by Pro Football Weekly.

One of the few NFL assistants to successfully mentor two different position groups, McDermott coached the secondary and linebackers before becoming defensive coordinator, learning all phases of the defensive game plan from the late Jim Johnson, the Eagles' legendary defensive coordinator from 1999-2008.

Tutoring the defensive backs in 2008, McDermott helped the pass defense improve in nearly every statistical category from the previous year, ranking third in the NFL in pass defense and second in net yards per pass play. Two members of the secondary – free safety Brian Dawkins and Samuel – garnered Pro Bowl recognition, while Mikell captured second-team All-Pro accolades.

In 2007, McDermott took over the linebackers for one season when Steve Spagnuolo left to become the New York Giants defensive coordinator. The young linebacking corps flourished under McDermott as Omar Gaither, who compiled a team-high 170 tackles, and Chris Gocong progressed into full-time starters for the first time in their careers.

From 2004-06, McDermott served as the Eagles' secondary/safeties coach. In 2004, both starting safeties, Dawkins and strong safety Michael Lewis, went to the Pro Bowl. Under McDermott's guidance, Dawkins proceeded to make two more Pro Bowls after the 2005 and 2006 seasons. In addition, McDermott aided in the development of Mikell, an undrafted rookie free agent in 2003.

McDermott worked as the team's assistant defensive backs coach in 2003 and as the defensive assistant/quality control coach from 2001-02, assisting with linebackers. He originally joined the organization in 1998 as a scouting administrative coordinator and primarily handled collective bargaining agreement, salary cap and personnel matters until being promoted to assistant to the head coach in 1999.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: An All-Atlantic 10 Conference choice at safety for William & Mary as a senior in 1997, McDermott graduated with a degree in finance and began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at his alma mater in 1998. He and his wife, Jamie, have a daughter, Madeline, and a son, Gavin.

HISTORY: Safety: William & Mary 1994-97. College coach: William & Mary 1998. Pro coach: Philadelphia Eagles 1999-2010, Joined Panthers in 2011.

BRIAN MURPHY

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

LEHIGH
SEVENTH NFL SEASON / SECOND PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: Brian Murphy is in his second season overseeing the Panthers special teams, which showed steady improvement during the course of last year, including Carolina's first kickoff return for a touchdown since 2003. That was a team-record 101-yard return at Detroit from rookie Kealoha Pilares, who finished as the NFL's eighth-leading kick returner under Murphy, averaging 25.7 yards per return.

Before coming to Carolina, Murphy was at Minnesota where the specialists performed at a high level under his tutelage. Punter Chris Kluwe generated a 38.9-yard net punting average and landed 32 punts inside the 20, the second-highest figures in team history. Kicker Ryan Longwell finished first in the NFL with a 94.4 field goal percentage, converting 17-of-18 field goal attempts for the third-best mark in franchise annals.

Promoted from assistant special teams coach in 2009, Murphy made an immediate impact in his first season as special teams coordinator. Minnesota improved from 25th to ninth in the Dallas Morning News rankings, and the return and coverage units along with the kicking game helped the Vikings win the NFC North and advance to the NFC Championship.

Rookie kick returner Percy Harvin and special teamer Heath Farwell made the Pro Bowl following the 2009 campaign. Harvin ranked fourth in the NFL with a 27.5-yard kickoff return average and two touchdowns, while Farwell led the team for the third time in four years with 24 special teams tackles.

From 2006-08, Murphy served as the Vikings' assistant special teams coach. During the 2008 season, Kluwe set a team record with a 47.6-yard gross punting average, and Minnesota tied for the NFL lead by forcing opponents to 10 missed field goals, including a blocked field goal that Antoine Winfield returned 59 yards for a touchdown.

The previous year, the Vikings stood near the top in several categories: kickoff return average (fifth), kickoff coverage (sixth) and punts inside the 20 (third). In Murphy's first season as an NFL coach in 2006, Minnesota created four special teams takeaways and scored two special teams touchdowns, including one on a 16-yard pass by Longwell on a successfully executed fake field goal.

Murphy coached special teams at Wisconsin from 2002-05 in addition to overseeing outside linebackers. In 2005, he elevated the special teams units to among the best in the Big Ten. The Badgers finished first in gross and net punting average and second in punt return average, returning three punts for touchdowns.

He broke into coaching on the college level in 1992 at Benedictine, handling the defensive line. Murphy then became assistant recruiting coordinator and academic liaison for Wisconsin in 1993 and worked with the Badgers offensive and defensive lines as a graduate assistant from 1994-96.

Next, Murphy had one-year stints at Baylor as defensive backs coach in 1997, the University of San Diego as defensive coordinator and recruiting coordinator in 1998 and his alma mater, Lehigh, as defensive line coach and strength and conditioning coordinator in 1999. He returned to Wisconsin as an administrative assistant in 2000 until moving to special teams coordinator and outside linebackers coach in 2002.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: A four-year letterman as a defensive lineman for Lehigh from 1988-91, Murphy graduated with a bachelor's degree in international relations in 1992. He later earned a master's degree in education administration from Wisconsin in 1997. Murphy and his wife, Maggie, have a son, Eamon, and a daughter, Flynn.

WARREN BELIN

LINEBACKERS

WAKE FOREST
SECOND NFL SEASON / SECOND PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: Warren Belin's first year as the Panthers linebackers coach was filled with challenges as injuries hit the position hard, losing starters Jon Beason and Thomas Davis in the season's first two weeks. Attrition continued at the position throughout the season as the Panthers started eight different linebackers, but James Anderson remained a constant, and under Belin's tutelage, Anderson started all 16 games and set a team record with 174 tackles.

Belin joined the Panthers in 2011 after gaining 20 years of experience as a college coach. The veteran assistant came to Carolina following a one-year stint at Georgia and an eight-year tenure at Vanderbilt.

Working with the inside linebackers in his only season at Georgia in 2010, Belin mentored linebacker Akeem Dent, who led the team and ranked second in the Southeastern Conference with 126 tackles. Dent, an All-SEC second-team selection, was drafted by the Atlanta Falcons in the third round of the 2011 NFL Draft. Additionally, Belin handled the Bulldogs' kickoff coverage unit, which ranked first in the SEC.

Before moving to Georgia, Belin spent eight seasons as linebackers coach at Vanderbilt from 2002-09. In addition, he served as the team's recruiting coordinator during his last two years and special teams coordinator from 2006-07. RAY BROWN

ASSISTANT OFFENSIVE LINE

ARKANSAS STATE
SIXTH NFL SEASON / SECOND PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: Assistant offensive line coach Ray Brown enters his second season with the Panthers after working with offensive line coach John Matsko to help tutor a unit that was a strong point for the team in 2011.

With Brown as part of the staff, the offensive line helped set a team record with a 5.4 yards per carry average and opened holes for the Panthers to become the first team in NFL history with three 700-yard rushers in DeAngelo Williams (836), Jonathan Stewart (761) and Cam Newton (706). Center Ryan Kalil was named to the Pro Bowl and earned second-team All-Pro honors.

With 20 years of NFL experience as a player, Brown's tutelage was instrumental in the development of Byron Bell, an undrafted rookie free agent who started 12 games at right tackle after original starter Jeff Otah's season was cut short due to injury.

Brown spent 2010 as assistant offensive line coach with the San Francisco 49ers. While with San Francisco, he relied on his extensive background and knowledge to help integrate first-round draft picks Anthony Davis at tackle and Mike Iupati at guard into the starting lineup.

Prior to joining the 49ers, Brown served as the Buffalo Bills' assistant offensive line coach for two seasons from 2008-09. In each of his years with the Bills, the offensive line opened holes for 1,000-yard rushers, and Brown helped tackle Jason Peters make the Pro Bowl in 2008.

Brown made his foray into coaching during the second half of the 2006 season as a special assistant on the Washington Redskins' staff. In his role, he assisted with the offensive line.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Originally an eighth-round draft choice (201st overall) by the St. Louis Cardinals in 1986, Brown played in 265 games with 202 starts at guard and tackle for four different franchises – St. Louis/Phoenix Cardinals, Washington Redskins, San Francisco 49ers and Detroit Lions.

Brown was a member of the Redskins' Super Bowl XXVI championship team and earned Pro Bowl and first-team All-Pro honors with the 49ers in 2001. He became the oldest player to ever start an NFL postseason game when he opened at right guard for the Redskins against the Seattle Seahawks in the 2005 NFC Divisional Playoff at the age of 43 years and 336 days.

An All-Southland Conference selection at Arkansas State, Brown lined up on the offensive line and at tight end for the Indians. As a senior in 1985, he became the first player in conference history to be named all-conference at two different positions in the same season, garnering first-team recognition at tackle and second-team accolades at tight end. Brown began his college career at Memphis State before transferring to Arkansas State.

He and his wife, Ashley, have a daughter, Miriam, and a son, Leonard. Brown also has two daughters, Lentisha and Andrea, and a son, Tyler.

FRED GRAVES

WIDE RECEIVERS

UTAH
ELEVENTH NFL SEASON / SECOND PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: Fred Graves entered 2011 challenged with developing one of the NFL's youngest wide receiving corps, but it was veteran Steve Smith who re-emerged in Graves' first season as Carolina's wide receivers coach. Under Graves, Smith produced his first 1,000-yard season since 2008 and was named to his fifth Pro Bowl after recording 79 catches for 1,394 receiving yards and seven touchdowns.

Graves teaching also helped second-year wide receiver Brandon LaFell establish a career-high with 613 yards. LaFell entered the starting lineup during the final six weeks of the season and posted the first 100-yard receiving game of his career during that time.

Prior to joining the Panthers, Graves served as receivers coach for the Tennessee Titans from 2007-10. Taking over Tennessee's wide receivers in 2007, Graves took an unproven group of wide outs and groomed them into reliable targets. Justin Gage emerged and tied for the team lead with a career-high 55 catches. The next year, Gage evolved into a big-play threat, ranking third in the NFL with an average of 19.1 yards per reception.

In 2009, the Titans selected Kenny Britt in the first round of the NFL Draft and added Nate Washington in free agency. Graves helped Britt compile a team-high 701 yards to become the first rookie to lead the team in receiving yards since 1995. In Washington's first season as a full-time starter in the NFL, he established career bests for catches and touchdowns.

Graves joined the Titans from the Detroit Lions, where he oversaw the wide receivers in 2005. In his one season with the Lions, the wide receiver position group tallied 148 receptions for 1,810 yards, and Roy Williams continued to mature into a featured receiver with a career-high eight touchdowns under Graves' guidance.

Prior to the Lions, Graves spent one season as the Cleveland Browns wide receivers coach in 2004. There, he worked with current Carolina Panthers offensive coordinator Rob Chudzinski, who was the Browns offensive coordinator for the final five games of the year.

From 2001-03, Graves coached the wide receivers for the Buffalo Bills. In 2002, veterans Eric Moulds and Peerless Price along with rookie Josh Reed combined for 231 catches for 3,053 yards and 21 touchdowns. Graves produced two 1,000-yard receivers in Moulds and Price while directing Moulds to the first 100-reception season in franchise history and Pro Bowl honors.

He entered the NFL coaching ranks with 26 years of experience on the college level, including all but one mentoring wide receivers and the last 19 at his alma mater, Utah, from 1982-2000. During his tenure with the Utes, Graves tutored future Carolina Panthers wide receiver Steve Smith, helping him set a school record with a 20.6-yard career average per catch and twice earn All-Mountain West Conference recognition.

At Utah, Graves held a number of positions: assistant head coach/wide receivers (1994, 1998-2000), offensive coordinator/wide receivers (1995-97), wide receivers (1982-89, 1991-93) and running backs (1990). He also served as tight ends/wide receivers coach at Northeast Missouri State from 1975-76, Western Illinois from 1977-78 and New Mexico State from 1979-81.

PETE HOENER

TIGHT ENDS

BRADLEY
FOURTEENTH NFL SEASON / SECOND PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: As tight ends coach, Pete Hoener oversees one of the most prominent positions in the Panthers offense. In 2011, Hoener's first season with the Panthers, Carolina tight ends combined for 85 catches for 1,008 yards and nine touchdowns in the most productive season for the position since the departure of Wesley Walls a decade earlier. The unit also contributed to a running game that averaged 5.4 yards per carry and saw the Panthers become the first team in NFL history to feature three 700 yard rushers.

A veteran of 13 seasons as an NFL assistant, Hoener joined the Panthers after six seasons with the San Francisco 49ers from 2005-10. During his tenure with San Francisco, Hoener played an instrumental role in the development of tight ends Vernon Davis and Delanie Walker, both of whom were drafted by the 49ers in 2006. Hoener helped Davis become one of the most versatile and complete tight ends in the game as both a receiver and blocker, and he turned Walker, a wide receiver in college, into an explosive receiving threat.

In 2010, Davis ranked first on the 49ers with 56 receptions, 914 receiving yards and seven touchdowns to become the first tight end in franchise history to lead the team in receptions, receiving yards and touchdowns in consecutive seasons. Walker also experienced a productive campaign, recording career highs with 29 catches and 331 yards.

The previous year, Hoener tutored Davis to one of the most prolific seasons by a tight end in recent NFL history. Davis compiled 78 receptions for 965 yards and 13 touchdowns, an effort that resulted in being selected a Pro Bowl starter. Davis' 13 touchdowns tied the then NFL single-season record for the most touchdowns by a tight end and equaled the most touchdown catches in the NFL, making him the first tight end in the Super Bowl era to lead or tie for the league lead in receiving touchdowns.

Hoener joined the 49ers from the Chicago Bears, where he oversaw the offensive line in 2004. His flexibility was on display, as the Bears employed seven different starting combinations among the front five. Under Hoener's guidance, center Olin Kreutz earned Pro Bowl honors.

Prior to the Bears, Hoener spent three seasons with the Arizona Cardinals, serving as the offensive line coach in 2003 and tight ends coach from 2001-02. It marked his second stint with the Cardinals after entering the NFL coaching ranks as the team's tight ends coach from 1985-86 when the franchise was in St. Louis.

Along with his NFL experience, Hoener coached 24 years on the college level as an offensive line coach and offensive coordinator.

JOHN MATSKO

OFFENSIVE LINE

KENT STATE
TWENTY-FIRST NFL SEASON / SECOND PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: In his first season as the Panthers offensive line coach, John Matsko led a unit that helped Carolina total more than 100 yards rushing in a franchise record 14 consecutive games en route to totaling 2,408 yards on the ground, the third-highest total in team history. The Panthers set a team record with a 5.4 yards per carry average and became the first team in League history to feature three 700-yard rushers in DeAngelo Williams, Jonathan Stewart and Cam Newton. Under Matsko, center Ryan Kalil was named to his third consecutive Pro Bowl, and first as a starter, and earned second-team All-Pro honors.

An accomplished offensive line coach for more than 20 NFL seasons, Matsko has coached nearly every style of offensive line along the way – from the prolific passing assault of the St. Louis Rams at the turn of the century to the efficient rushing attack of the Baltimore Ravens from 2008-10.

Leading a youthful group of offensive linemen, Matsko helped the Ravens rank in the top five in the NFL in rushing in two of his three seasons, finishing fourth in 2008 and fifth in 2009. He mentored tackle Michael Oher, who made the NFL's all-rookie team in 2009, and in 2008 the team permitted only 33 sacks, the second fewest in team history, while featuring the league's youngest offensive line.

Prior to joining Baltimore, Matsko spent two seasons as the offensive line coach of the Kansas City Chiefs from 2006-07. Despite utilizing five different starting combinations due to injuries in 2006, the offensive line paved the way for the Chiefs to place ninth in the NFL in rushing and compile a team-record 11 100-yard rushing games. Under Matsko's guidance, guards Will Shields and Brian Waters earned Pro Bowl honors.

Nowhere was Matsko's versatility as an outstanding teacher in both the run and pass blocking aspects of offensive line play on display more than during his tenure with the St. Louis Rams from 1999-2005. With Matsko presiding over the offensive line for one of the most dynamic offenses in NFL history, the Rams led the league in total offense for three consecutive years from 1999-2001, including a record 5,232 yards in 2000, and won Super Bowl XXXIV. He played an instrumental role in the development of two Pro Bowlers – tackle Orlando Pace and guard Adam Timmerman.

Matsko began his NFL coaching career as offensive line coach of the Phoenix Cardinals in 1992 and served in that capacity for two seasons. In 1993, the offensive front opened holes for the Cardinals to have their first 1,000-yard rusher since 1985. He then moved to New Orleans in 1994 and coached three seasons with the Saints. Under Matsko's tutelage, tackle Willie Roaf earned three Pro Bowl selections, and the Saints ranked seventh in the league for fewest sacks allowed in 1994 and 1995 and third in 1996.

Following his stint with New Orleans, Matsko assumed the same role from 1997-98 with the New York Giants, where they improved both their pass protection and run blocking. The Giants allowed 24 fewer sacks and jumped from 19th to seventh in the NFL in rushing in 1997 compared to 1996.

Before entering the NFL coaching ranks, Matsko spent 17 years on the college level. He worked as a graduate assistant at Miami (Ohio) from 1974-75 and returned as offensive line coach in 1977 after being the head coach at Danbury High School in Lakeside-Marblehead, Ohio, in 1976. Matsko served as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at North Carolina from 1978-84 prior to stops for one year each as offensive line coach at Navy in 1985 and Arizona in 1986. He joined Southern California as offensive line coach in 1987 and was promoted to offensive coordinator in 1989 for his final three seasons with the Trojans.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Matsko played fullback at Kent State and lettered three years from 1970-72. SAM MILLS III

DEFENSIVE QUALITY CONTROL / ASSISTANT DEFENSIVE LINE

MONTCLAIR STATE
EIGHTH NFL SEASON / EIGHTH PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: Sam Mills III is in his eighth season with the Panthers, and second as defensive quality control/assistant defensive line coach. Working with defensive line coach Eric Washington last season, Mills tutored a line that accounted for 25.5 of the team's 31 sacks. Veteran defensive end Charles Johnson narrowly missed his second consecutive double-digit sack season, leading the team with nine, and young players received valuable experience as three rookies started games at defensive tackle.

Prior to the 2011 season, Mills added assistant defensive line coach to his title along with his responsibilities as the Panthers defensive quality control coach, though he actually has been working with the defensive line since 2006.

In 2010, Mills helped Johnson become the fifth player in team history to produce 10 or more sacks in a season with 11.5. The previous year, he contributed to a rejuvenated Panthers defensive line that accounted for 24.5 of the team's 31 sacks.

After spending the 2005 season in a dual role as a strength and conditioning and defensive assistant, Mills was promoted to defensive quality control coach in 2006. On game day, Mills is in the coaching booth and records all plays for the defense to help determine game tendencies. However, his day does not end when the game ends. Mills immediately seizes a play-by-play and charts what happened in every situation for the Carolina defense.

During the week, Mills aids Washington at practice and in meetings. He also oversees tape breakdown for statistical tendencies and assists in game-plan preparation as well as the planning and production of the defensive play book.

Mills is no stranger to the organization as his position on the coaching staff is the culmination of his path as a youth. His father, Sam, is the only Panthers player to have his number retired and is the only player inducted into the team's Hall of Honor. When his father played for the Panthers, Mills worked as a ball boy at training camp and later in the equipment room before joining the strength and conditioning program.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Mills followed in his father's footsteps by playing at Montclair (N.J.) State, where the elder Mills was an NCAA Division II All-America at linebacker. He started 20 games in two seasons at defensive back for the Red Hawks and totaled 71 tackles, two interceptions, 14 passes defensed, three forced fumbles and one fumble recovery.

HISTORY: Defensive back: Monclair State 1997-1999. Pro coach: Joined Panthers in 2005.

RICKY PROEHL

ASSISTANT WIDE RECEIVERS

WAKE FOREST
SECOND NFL SEASON / SECOND PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: After 17 seasons as an NFL player, former wide receiver Ricky Proehl returns for his second season as a member of the Panthers coaching staff and first as assistant wide receivers coach. In 2011, Proehl served as an offensive consultant with the Panthers, working primarily with wide receivers coach Fred Graves. Proehl helped Graves mentor a receiving corps that was comprised of veteran Steve Smith and a host of young receivers. Smith earned his fifth Pro Bowl selection after finishing fifth in the NFL with 1,394 yards on 79 receptions with seven touchdowns while second-year wide receiver Brandon LaFell tallied 613 yards and three touchdowns, earning a starting spot opposite Smith for the final six games of the season.

Proehl finished his career with 669 receptions for 8,878 yards and 54 touchdowns. He appeared in 244 games with 110 starts for the Phoenix/Arizona Cardinals, Seattle Seahawks, Chicago Bears, Carolina Panthers and Indianapolis Colts. Proehl was a member of four Super Bowl teams, including championship teams with the Rams and Colts. In three seasons with the Panthers, he registered 86 catches for 1,327 yards and eight touchdowns and participated on two playoff teams.

But Proehl's playing days were distinguished by far more than his statistical achievements. He earned a reputation as a sure-handed and clutch player, making dramatic plays at critical times.

In the 2003 season opener versus Jacksonville, his first game with Carolina, Proehl caught a 12-yard touchdown on fourth down with 16 seconds left to cap a come-from-behind win and propel the Panthers on their Super Bowl run. During the 1999 postseason, he snagged a one-handed, 30-yard touchdown reception with 4:44 to play that lifted St. Louis to a victory over Tampa Bay in the NFC Championship.

Noted for the example he set for young players with his hard work, savvy and veteran leadership, Proehl essentially began coaching while still playing. A student of the game and an excellent communicator, he mentored teammates like Isaac Bruce and Torry Holt in St. Louis and Steve Smith in Carolina.

Those experiences have helped Proehl in his role with the Panthers. Carolina has one of the NFL's youngest receiving corps and has drafted five wideouts over the last two seasons, all of whom have benefited from his knowledge and detail-oriented approach to the game.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Since retiring following the 2006 season, Proehl has owned and operated Proehlific Park, a family sports complex and fitness center, in Greensboro, N.C. A standout wide receiver at Wake Forest from 1986-89 before being selected in the third round (58th overall) of the 1990 NFL Draft by the Cardinals, Proehl left the university as the holder of almost every major receiving record. He still ranks as the Demon Deacons' all-time leader with 2,949 receiving yards and 25 touchdown catches, and his 188 receptions stand second. Proehl led the team in receiving three consecutive seasons and finished first in the Atlantic Coast Conference with 65 catches for a then school-record 1,053 yards as a senior in 1989. Proehl majored in speech communications at Wake Forest. In recognition of his college and professional accomplishments, he was inducted into the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame in May 2011. He and his wife, Kelly, have a daughter, Alexandria, and two sons, Austin and Blake.

HISTORY: Wide receiver: Wake Forest 1986-89. Pro wide receiver: Phoenix/Arizona Cardinals 1990-94, Seattle Seahawks 1995-96, Chicago Bears 1997, St. Louis Rams 1998-2002, Carolina Panthers 2003-05, Indianapolis Colts 2006. Pro coach: Joined Panthers in 2011.

RICHARD RODGERS

SPECIAL TEAMS ASSISTANT

CALIFORNIA
FIRST NFL SEASON / FIRST PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: Richard Rodgers, who was part of one of the most memorable kickoff returns in college football history, joins the Panthers this season as the team's assistant special teams coach. In conjunction with special teams coordinator Brian Murphy, Rodgers aims for the Panthers' special teams units to have a game-changing impact reminiscent of "The Play."

Rodgers comes to Carolina with 23 years of college experience. He coached at Holy Cross from 2005-11, spending his last six seasons as the defensive coordinator after handling the secondary in 2005. Rodgers developed the Crusaders into one of the top defenses in the Patriot League. Five players from his unit earned All-Patriot League honors in 2009, 2010 and 2011.

From 2001-04, Rodgers tutored the secondary at New Mexico State. During his tenure, the Aggies pilfered 45 interceptions, while lowering their passing yardage allowed in each of his final three seasons. Previously, Rodgers worked four years at Portland State from 1997-2000. He oversaw the Vikings' secondary and special teams in addition to serving as the team's strength and conditioning coordinator.

Prior to Portland State, Rodgers had a two-year stint at San Jose State, working with the secondary and special teams from 1995-96. He started his coaching career as an assistant at Diablo Valley Community College from 1989-94.

Rodgers also gained valuable exposure to professional football along the way. He participated in the NFL's Minority Internship Program with the Oakland Raiders during training camp in 1996 and then was the defensive backs coach for the Scotish Claymores of NFL Europe in 1998.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: A two-time second-team All-Pac 10 Conference selection at California, where he was teammates with Carolina Panthers head coach Ron Rivera, Rodgers was the Golden Bears' special teams captain for three seasons. He called "The Play" in the huddle to defeat Stanford in 1982. Rodgers was the second and fourth player to handle the ball on the famed five-lateral kickoff return for a touchdown on the final play of the game between the two rivals.

Rodgers then played linebacker and wide receiver for three seasons in the Arena Football League. He appeared in the league's first championship game in 1987, catching a 32-yard touchdown pass for the Denver Dynamite in Arena Bowl I.

He has a daughter, Kayla, and two sons, Richard II and Christopher, and is engaged to Sara Kuhlman. Rodgers graduated from California with a degree in political science.

JOHN SETTLE

RUNNING BACKS

APPALACHIAN STATE
FIFTH NFL SEASON / SECOND PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: In his first season with Carolina, John Settle oversaw a stable of running backs that helped the Panthers rush for 2,408 yards, the third-most in team history and set a team record with a 5.4 yards per carry average. Backs DeAngelo Williams and Jonathan Stewart both averaged over five yards per attempt as the Panthers produced 100 or more rushing yards in a franchise record 14 consecutive games. Williams (836) and Stewart (761) joined quarterback Cam Newton (706) to become the first rushing attack in NFL history to feature three 700-yard rushers.

Stewart contributed in the passing game as well, setting team records for the most catches and receiving yards by a running back in a single season, finishing the year with a career-high 47 receptions for 413 yards and one touchdown.

Settle came to Carolina after handling the running backs from 2006-10 at Wisconsin, where the Badgers averaged more than 200 yards rushing per game in each of his last four years.

In 2010, Settle oversaw one of the most dynamic rushing attacks in Wisconsin history that included a productive trio of running backs. The Badgers set school records of 5.5 yards per attempt and 48 rushing touchdowns while rushing for 3,402 yards and 170 first downs.

Under Settle's guidance, Wisconsin nearly became the first team in NCAA history to have three different 1,000-yard rushers in the same season as James White totaled 1,052 yards, John Clay gained 1,012 and Montee Ball recorded 996. Both White and Clay earned second-team All-Big Ten recognition, and White was named Big Ten Freshman of the Year.

The previous year, Clay garnered Big Ten Offensive Player of the Year honors, leading the conference with 1,517 yards and 18 touchdowns. Wisconsin ranked first in the Big Ten in rushing in 2008 with an average of 211.2 yards per game, the team's best mark since 1999, and P.J. Hill surpassed 1,000 yards on the ground for the third consecutive season. Settle directed Hill to Big Ten Freshman of the Year accolades in 2006 after Hill paced the conference in rushing with 1,569 yards and 16 total touchdowns.

Prior to joining Wisconsin, Settle spent eight seasons as running backs coach at Fresno State from 1998-2005. During his tenure with the Bulldogs, Settle tutored six different 1,000-yard backs. He developed Derrick Ward and Dwayne Wright into NFL draft choices, with Ward being a seventh-round selection of the New York Jets in 2004 and Wright being a fourth-round pick of the Buffalo Bills in 2007.

Settle began his NFL coaching career with the Cleveland Browns/Baltimore Ravens from 1995-97. He worked in several capacities, serving as an offensive assistant and special teams quality control coach in addition to assisting in the weight room. Settle broke into coaching at his alma mater, Appalachian State, where he helped with running backs in 1994.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Signed as an undrafted rookie free agent by the Atlanta Falcons in 1987, Settle played in 46 games with 29 starts over six NFL seasons, spending four years with the Falcons from 1987-90 and two with the Washington Redskins from 1991-92. He accumulated 1,801 yards and 10 touchdowns on 439 carries and posted 118 catches for 1,039 yards and three touchdowns. Settle was voted to the Pro Bowl following the 1988 season when he became the first undrafted player since the NFL-AFL merger in 1970 to rush for 1,000 yards. He also was a member of the Redskins Super Bowl XXVI championship team.

A native of Reidsville, N.C., and product of Rockingham County High School, Settle played running back at Appalachian State from 1983-86. He finished his career as the school's all-time leading rusher with 4,409 yards and 43 touchdowns. As a senior, Settle compiled 1,661 yards and 20 touchdowns to capture Southern Conference Player of the Year. His number, 23, was retired by Appalachian State, and he was inducted into the school's hall of fame in 1994. He graduated with a degree in criminal justice from Appalachian State. Settle and his wife, Karen, have three children: Jonathan, Leighton and Devynn.

MIKE SHULA

QUARTERBACKS

ALABAMA
TWENTY-FIRST NFL SEASON / SECOND PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: With his vast knowledge of the quarterback position, having successfully played and coached it, Panthers quarterbacks coach Mike Shula was instrumental in the development of No. 1 overall draft choice Cam Newton in 2011.

Under Shula, Newton was named Associated Press Offensive Rookie of the Year after turning in one of the most prolific rookie seasons in NFL history, passing for 4,051 yards and accounting for 35 total touchdowns, both NFL rookie records. Newton's 21 touchdown passes are the third-most all-time for a rookie and his 14 rushing touchdowns are the most ever by a quarterback in NFL history. With Newton at the helm, the Panthers offense experienced a 210-point improvement in scoring from the previous season and set team records for total yardage (6,237) and first downs (345).

A veteran of 24 years in coaching, including 20 as an NFL assistant and four as a college head coach, Shula spent four seasons as the quarterbacks coach of the Jacksonville Jaguars (2007-10) before arriving in Carolina.

With Jacksonville, Shula oversaw David Garrard's development from becoming a full-time starter in 2007 to making the Pro Bowl in 2009. In Shula's first year with the Jaguars, Garrard ranked third in the NFL with a 102.2 passer rating – an almost 23-point improvement from the previous season – threw an NFL-low three interceptions and established a team record with a 64.0 completion percentage.

After posting career highs for attempts (535), completions (335) and yards (3,620) in 2008, Garrard capped the 2009 campaign with a Pro Bowl appearance. In 2010, under Shula's guidance, Garrard came through in the clutch by finishing second in the NFL with a fourth-quarter passer rating of 108.3 and directing five game-winning drives.

From 2003-06, Shula compiled a 26-23 record as head coach at Alabama and led the Crimson Tide to three consecutive bowl games. While at Alabama, he mentored quarterback Brodie Croyle, who holds school career records for attempts, completions and yards and was a third-round draft choice by the Kansas City Chiefs in 2006.

Before returning to his alma mater as head coach, Shula coached the Miami Dolphins quarterbacks for three seasons from 2000-02. It marked his second stint with the team, previously serving as a coaching assistant for two years from 1991-92. During Shula's tenure as Dolphins quarterbacks coach, Jay Fiedler became just the second quarterback in franchise history to pass for more than 3,000 yards with 3,290 in 2001.

In addition to Shula's work as a quarterbacks coach, he presided over the Tampa Bay Buccaneers offense as offensive coordinator for four seasons from 1996-99. The Buccaneers reached the playoffs in two of Shula's four years, advancing to the NFC Championship in 1999. Shula helped quarterback Trent Dilfer earn Pro Bowl honors in 1997 when he set then team records for touchdowns and most consecutive pass attempts without an interception.

Shula joined the Buccaneers from the Chicago Bears, where he handled tight ends for three seasons from 1993-95. He broke into coaching as an offensive assistant for Tampa Bay in 1988 and was promoted to quarterbacks coach in 1990. As the Buccaneers' quarterbacks coach, Shula tutored Vinny Testaverde.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: A two-time All-Southeastern Conference choice at quarterback for Alabama from 1984-86, Shula completed 298-of-552 passes for 3,881 yards and 33 touchdowns with 30 interceptions and finished his career with a 32-15-1 record as a starter. Washington brought a blend of youthful energy and abundant experience as a coach on the pro and college levels to the Panthers last season, after spending 2008-10 with the Chicago Bears.

Elevated to defensive line coach in 2010, Washington presided over a group that accounted for 25 of the team's 34 sacks and helped the Bears rank ninth in the NFL in total defense, second in rushing defense and fourth in scoring defense. Along the defensive line, he coached Pro Bowler Julius Peppers and end Israel Idonije, who tied for the team lead with eight sacks each.

Washington worked the previous two seasons as Chicago's defensive assistant/assistant defensive line coach. STEVEN WILKS

SECONDARY / PASS DEFENSE COORDINATOR

APPALACHIAN STATE
SEVENTH NFL SEASON / FIRST PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: Steven Wilks returns to his hometown as the Panthers' secondary coach and pass defense coordinator. He brings nearly 20 years of college and pro coaching experience and rejoins head coach Ron Rivera, whom he previously worked with in San Diego and Chicago.

Wilks oversaw the San Diego Chargers' secondary the last three years from 2009-11. He was promoted to assistant head coach-secondary in 2011 from secondary coach. The Chargers' pass defense vastly improved under Wilks' guidance. Prior to his arrival, San Diego ranked 31st in the NFL against the pass but jumped to 11th in 2009, first in 2010 and 13th in 2011.

Wilks and Rivera formed a formidable duo in 2010 when Rivera served as defensive coordinator and the Chargers led the NFL in total defense and pass defense. San Diego limited opponents to a 76.2 passer rating, the fourth lowest in the league, and allowed 18 touchdown passes, the fifth fewest in the NFL.

He came to San Diego following three seasons as defensive backs coach for the Chicago Bears. One of Wilks' strengths while with the Bears was his emphasis on creating turnovers.

From 2006-08, cornerbacks and safeties accounted for 42 of the team's 62 interceptions, including 16 in 2006 when Chicago – with Rivera as defensive coordinator – led the NFL with 44 takeaways, won the NFC Championship and advanced to Super Bowl XLI. The Bears' defensive backs also forced 20 fumbles during Wilks' tenure, the most in the NFL in that span.

Before joining the Bears, Wilks coached 11 seasons on the college level, honing his craft as a defensive backs coach, defensive coordinator and head coach. He went to Washington as defensive backs coach in 2005 from Notre Dame, where he helped the Irish earn a bowl bid in his only season there in 2004.

Previously, Wilks was the defensive backs coach at Bowling Green State University in 2003, producing an All-American cornerback, and was co-defensive coordinator at East Tennessee State in 2002 for a unit that featured three defensive backs who earned All-Southern Conference honors. He also had one-year stints as the defensive backs coach at Appalachian State in 2001 and Illinois State in 2000.

Wilks spent 1999 as the head coach at Savannah State, guiding the team to a 5-6 record, after serving as the team's defensive coordinator from 1997-98. In 1998, he earned Division II defensive coordinator of the year as the Tigers led the nation in total defense. Wilks began his coaching career as defensive coordinator at Johnson C. Smith in Charlotte in 1995.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: A product of West Charlotte High School, Wilks played defensive back at Appalachian State from 1987-91 and finished his career with 103 tackles, four interceptions and four blocked kicks. He attended training camp with the Seattle Seahawks in 1992 and lined up at defensive back and wide receiver for the Charlotte Rage of the Arena Football League in 1993.

MARTY HURNEY

GENERAL MANAGER

CATHOLIC
BORN DECEMBER 20, 1955
TWENTY-FIFTH NFL SEASON / FIFTEENTH PANTHERS SEASON

A tireless worker, who investigates every possibility in his quest to improve the Panthers, Marty Hurney has been Panthers general manager since 2002. During that time the Panthers have made three playoff appearances, won an NFC championship, two NFC South titles, and played in two NFC Championship games and a Super Bowl.

From 2002-09 the Panthers compiled the seventh best record in the NFL, and look to rejoin the League's elite. Hurney oversaw a significant step in that direction last year with the selection of Cam Newton, who was named the NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year after his record setting season.

Newton joined center Ryan Kalil, tackle Jordan Gross, linebacker Jon Beason, running back DeAngelo Williams and former Panthers defensive end Julius Peppers as Hurney draft choices with appearances in the Pro Bowl. Free agent signings Jake Delhomme, Stephen Davis, Mike Wahle and Mark Fields also played in the postseason all-star game.

Hurney has put together a string of successful first round selections since assuming his responsibilities in 2002. Gross has developed into one of the premier tackles in the League. Cornerback Chris Gamble, the team career leader in interceptions, followed a year later and then came linebacker Thomas Davis, Williams, Beason, running back Jonathan Stewart, and tackle Jeff Otah in the first round before Newton last year.

Hurney has also shown an imagination and ability to multiply picks to strengthen the Panthers roster. In 2007, he traded Carolina's 11th overall pick in the first round to New York for the Jets 25th overall first round choice and their second round pick. The Panthers then took Beason with the first round choice and Kalil with the second round choice and both have played in the Pro Bowl.

It is a resume that has brought favorable notice to Hurney, who was second in NFL Executive of the Year balloting in 2003 and recognized by Forbes.com as one of the top 10 executives in professional sports in 2007. A year earlier FoxSports.com had given him the same honor. Most recently, a The Sporting News poll ranked Hurney third among the League's general managers for first round value in the draft, ranking only behind Baltimore's Ozzie Newsome and former Colts executive Bill Polian.

The ability to find value has not been limited to the draft under Hurney. Veteran free agent signings have included Delhomme, Davis, wide receiver Ricky Proehl, Fields and tight end Jeremy Shockey.

The respect he has earned in the League was reflected in his appointment to the NFL General Managers Advisory Committee, which provides feedback to the Football Operations department headed by Ray Anderson.

Despite his success, Hurney is still more comfortable behind the scenes. It was that management style owner Jerry Richardson saw in Hurney when he promoted him to general manager. The promotion was the culmination of a 15-year NFL apprenticeship under some of the game's most astute coaches and executives, and Hurney has demonstrated that the lessons were well-learned.

Hurney joined the Panthers in 1998 from the San Diego Chargers and managed the salary cap under head coaches Dom Capers and George Seifert. As general manager, Hurney oversees the salary cap while coordinating the different areas of football operations with head coach Ron Rivera and the team's college and pro scouting departments.

Hurney first caught the eye of former Washington Redskins owner Jack Kent Cooke as a reporter covering the team's championship runs in the 1980s. Developing an association with Cooke, head coach Joe Gibbs and general manager Bobby Beathard, Hurney joined the Redskins public relations department in 1988. In 1990, Hurney moved with Beathard to San Diego, serving as the general manager's assistant with responsibilities that included organizing the scouting department and player contracts and overseeing the day-to-day football administration.

With the advent of the salary cap in 1993, Hurney emerged as the club's specialist in compliance management to the agreement, while earning distinction as both an administrator and negotiator, and played an integral role in San Diego's AFC Championship in 1994. Applying the lessons he has learned over the years under some of the game's most successful leaders, Hurney has become a proven leader himself.

A native of Wheaton, Md., Hurney graduated from Catholic University in Washington, D.C., and began his career as a journalist with the Montgomery Journal in Silver Spring, Md. In 1978, he moved to the Washington Star and worked on that paper for three years before going to the Washington Times, where he spent five years as a beat writer covering the Redskins. Born December 20, 1955, Marty has two sons, Joe and James, and lives in Charlotte.

SIXTEENTH NFL SEASON / SIXTH PANTHERS SEASON

Don Gregory was named Director of College Scouting for the Panthers during the summer of 2006 and his impact is visible throughout the Carolina lineup. Two players from Gregory's first draft, linebacker Jon Beason and center Ryan Kalil, have played in three Pro Bowls. Jonathan Stewart, a number one selection from his second draft, broke every team rookie rushing record.

However, the biggest score since Gregory joined the Panthers was the selection of NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year Cam Newton with the first choice of the 2011 draft.

His success is no surprise for Gregory is so diligent in his quest to uncover the best talent that he chooses to live in Dallas, where accessibility to the country's colleges is seldom more than a two-hour flight away.

Each fall and spring he sees approximately 300 players, stretching from coast-to-coast in a routine reminiscent of Groundhog Day. It's a schedule that has taken him to Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Alabama, South Carolina, Louisiana, Florida, Texas and California in a 10-day period.

However, searching the country for talent is not something that is new to Gregory, who chose scouting over coaching following a successful college playing career.

"I made that choice largely because of a scout named Gene Bates, who had scouted me when I was in college and became my mentor," says Gregory. "I went into high school coaching for eight years after playing, and Gene was instrumental in my transition into scouting as well as my development there."

Starting with a personnel position with the Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian Football League, Gregory began his climb up the pro ladder. He worked with the Eskimos from 1986-1990 before going to the World League of American Football to scout the northwest for the San Antonio Riders in 1990 and 1991. Gregory returned to Edmonton in 1992 and remained there until moving to the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the CFL for two years.

Gregory moved to the National Football League in 1995 as a scout with the San Diego Chargers and remained with the team until 1999. While at San Diego, he worked with Panthers general manager Marty Hurney, who was managing the salary cap.

In 2001, a move to the Las Vegas Outlaws of the XFL as Director of Player Personnel took Gregory out of the NFL, but he soon returned as a member of the Kansas City Chiefs scouting department. With the Chiefs, he served as a national scout in the south and southeast for five years.

Familiar with his work ethic and dedication to his profession, Hurney tabbed Gregory five years ago to become the Panthers director of college scouting. However, Gregory chose to keep his home in Dallas rather than move to Charlotte.

"I guess I've made my name in this business by being a grinder and that involves a lot of travel," explains Gregory. "I try to set an example by being on the road myself, and it helps you understand the issues scouts experience. Dallas is pretty centrally located in the middle of the country, so I can go east or west and be pretty much anywhere within a few hours."

A native of Pearl City, Hawaii, Don moved to Great Falls, Montana in the sixth grade and played college football at Wenatchee Valley College in 1974 and 1975 before transferring in 1976 to Portland State, where he played in the "run and shoot" offense of coach Mouse Davis and quarterback June Jones. Gregory finished his college career at Whitworth College, where he received a bachelor's of science degree in 1979. He then coached high school football in Washington before joining the Eskimos.

MARK KONCZ

DIRECTOR OF PRO SCOUTING

KANSAS
BORN DECEMBER 14, 1966
EIGHTEENTH NFL SEASON / EIGHTEENTH PANTHERS SEASON

Mark Koncz is an integral part of the Panthers success as Director of Pro Scouting, annually providing a steady stream of veteran talent to the team's roster. The ability of Koncz to discover available talent has paid dividends year after year, whether as an offseason acquisition or an in-season waiver wire pickup.

Last year was no exception as the Panthers placed a team record 18 players on injured reserve, leaving Mark and his staff with the challenge of finding capable replacements. That the Panthers were able to win four of their final six games is a testament to their ability.

The long list of veteran talent mined by Koncz includes Jeremy Shockey, Stephen Davis, Ricky Proehl, Mark Fields, Brandon Short, Rodney Peete, Brentson Buckner, Terry Cousin, Marlon McCree, Al Wallace, Mike Wahle and Chris Harris. Free agent signee Jake Delhomme became the winningest quarterback in team history.

The Pro Personnel Department also stepped forward in 2004 when Carolina reached midseason with 14 players on injured reserve, leaving a challenge of finding replacements. Several of those late arrivals played instrumental roles in the team's second-half rally and reinforced Koncz's reputation for finding talent in a variety of ways.

Year after year, his recommendations have turned out to be blue chips. In 2003 it was a trio of veteran free agent finds – Davis, who set a club rushing record with 1,444 yards, Delhomme and Proehl, the big play wide receiver who helped propel the Panthers to the NFC Championship and Super Bowl.

Sorting through the free agent pool to find the right fit for the Panthers is nothing new for Koncz. In 2002, five free agent finds proved vital for Carolina. Peete started at quarterback for all seven victories, Lamar Smith was the team's leading rusher, Fields led the team in tackles, Cousin was a starting cornerback and Wallace provided invaluable depth at defensive end.

The work of Koncz and his staff also resulted in the signing of guard Kevin Donnalley and Buckner at defensive tackle, both starters on the 2003 Super Bowl team. The pro personnel department is constantly evaluating NFL rosters in preparation for a need, and their time has been well spent. Whether waiver acquisitions such as Rod Smart or former starter Reggie Howard, high profile free agents such as Davis or unknown talents such as Delhomme, it is Koncz's job to be ready to fill a need. When an injury creates that need at a moment's notice, the pro personnel department must be ready to respond with recommendations.

Koncz has been scouring for hidden gems since 1998 when he joined the scouting department. He was named the Panthers director of pro scouting after working as the Panthers manager of football operations. In addition to his work of player evaluations throughout the NFL, he coordinates the advance scouting of opponents.

Koncz is a 1990 graduate of the University of Kansas, where he was a three-year letterman and three-year starter for the Jayhawks, serving as team captain his senior season. He earned a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio University in 1993 and joined the Panthers in July 1994, starting in the ticket department. A native of Chicago, Ill., Koncz is a graduate of Barrington High School. He and his wife, Yvette, live in Fort Mill, S.C., and have a daughter, Milena, and a son, Nolan.

GROSS PART OF WILD DRAFT DAY DRAMA

In 2003, Jordan Gross was part of some Draft Day drama. That year, the Panthers entered the Draft with the ninth pick, behind Minnesota in the seventh spot, and Jacksonville at eight. Baltimore followed the Panthers at 10.

The drama started at the seventh spot when Minnesota allowed their allotted 15 minutes to elapse without making a pick. Minnesota was trying to trade its pick to Baltimore, so the Ravens could skip ahead of Jacksonville to take quarterback Byron Leftwich. The Vikings thought they had a deal, but the league never approved it.

So the Jaguars, at the ready, sprinted to the table to take Leftwich instead when the Vikings' time was up, as rules allow.

The Panthers followed suit, rushing to turn in their pick of Gross in the eighth spot. Since being selected, Gross has been a mainstay at tackle for the Panthers, starting 135 games over nine seasons and earning two Pro Bowl selections.

The Vikings finally did make their pick, choosing defensive tackle Kevin Williams at No. 9.

HARTSOCK'S QUARTERBACK CONNECTION

Tight end Ben Hartsock has made his mark helping clear paths in the running game, but he has an interesting connection in the passing game with highly-drafted quarterbacks.

Hartsock caught the first pass of his NFL career from No. 1 overall pick Peyton Manning (2004), the first pass of his Tennessee career from No. 3 overall pick Vince Young (2006), the first pass of his Atlanta career from No. 3 overall pick Matt Ryan (2008) and the first pass of his New York Jets career from No. 5 overall pick Mark Sanchez (2009). Only five of his 29 career receptions have not come from a quarterback selected in the draft's first five picks.

Hartsock could continue the trend with Cam Newton, the No. 1 overall selection in 2011, at quarterback for the Panthers.

GAME 1 ARIZONA 28 – CAROLINA 21

September 11, 2011
University of Phoenix Stadium • Glendale, AZ

Arizona Cardinals' quarterback Kevin Kolb threw for 309 yards and two touchdowns and rookie cornerback Patrick Peterson returned a punt 89 yards for a touchdown to lead the Cardinals to a 28-21 victory over the Carolina Panthers. Panthers' rookie quarterback Cam Newton and wide receiver Steve Smith enjoyed career days in their first regular season game together. Newton, the No. 1 overall pick in the 2011 NFL Draft, completed 24-of-37 passes for 422 yards and two touchdowns with one interception. Smith caught both of Newton's touchdown tosses, finishing with eight catches for 178 yards. Newton's passing yardage total was the most ever for a quarterback in his NFL debut, surpassing Otto Graham's 346-yard game for the Cleveland Browns on Sept. 16, 1950. It also shattered the rookie record for Kickoff Weekend (302 by Peyton Manning in 1998) and tied for the most yards for a rookie at any point during a season (Matthew Stafford in 2009). Still, it wasn't quite enough. With Carolina leading 21-14 in the third quarter, the Cardinals faced a third-and-7, Kolb spotted Early Doucet open over the middle just 5 yards beyond the line of scrimmage, and Doucet had to dodge just one would-be tackler in turning it into a 70-yard score that tied the game at 21 with 10:48 left.The Cardinals took the lead for good soon after, when rookie Patrick Peterson fielded a punt and steamed 89 yards for a touchdown and 28-21 lead with 7:15 to go. Carolina mounted one final rally after forcing the Cardinals to punt with 2:20 remaining. On fourth-and-5 from Arizona's 6-yard line with a little more than a minute to go, Newton hit running back Mike Goodson - his first option on the play – over the middle, but Cardinals linebacker Paris Lenon closed on Goodson and brought him down just short of the first down.

GAME 2 GREEN BAY 30 – CAROLINA 23

Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

Green Bay quarterback Aaron Rodgers threw for 308 yards and two touchdowns, including a 84-yarder to Jordy Nelson with 2:14 left in the fourth quarter to seal a 30-23 come-from-behind win. Carolina scored on its first three possessions while limiting Green Bay to three offensive snaps. But Carolina had to settle for field goals on two of the drives, even after advancing inside the 5-yard line on both. That opened the door for the Packers to score 23 unanswered points with a hand from four Panthers turnovers. For the second consecutive game, record-setting stats from quarterback Cam Newton weren't enough to produce his first victory. He broke the franchise record for most passing yards in a game with 432 and became just the sixth quarterback in NFL history to throw for 400-plus yards in back-to-back games, but he also threw a trio of interceptions. Before the turnover troubles, the Panthers stunned the Packers, taking the opening kickoff and marching 85 yards. Newton hooked up with tight end Jeremy Shockey for 23 and 18 yards, then he then hit wide receiver Steve Smith (six catches, 156 yards) twice for 27 total yards and running back Jonathan Stewart (eight catches, 100 yards) for 19 yards. On second-and-goal, Newton lofted a pass in the back of the end zone for wide receiver Brandon LaFell for a 3-yard score, capping a 10-play drive that consumed 5:40. On the drive, Newton was 6-for-7 for 90 yards. On the ensuing kickoff, Packers rookie Randall Cobb fumbled and Panthers safety Sean Considine recovered it. The Panthers settled for a 20-yard Olindo Mare field goal.The Packers got things going on the ensuing drive, converting a trio of third downs on an 80-march capped by fullback John Kuhn's 1-yard run that made it 13-7 with 9:58 left in the half. On the opening drive of the second-half, Rodgers spotted wide receiver Greg Jennings behind the defense for a 49-yard score and a 14-13 lead. Down for the first time, the Panthers suddenly found themselves scrambling to hold Green Bay to field goals when they turned the ball over on their first three possessions of the third quarter. Newton was picked off by cornerback Charles Woodson – Woodson's second interception of the day – then Smith lost a fumble on a 25-yard reception before safety Morgan Burnett picked Newton. In the end, the turnovers and red zone problems proved too much to overcome for Carolina.

GAME 3 CAROLINA 16 – JACKSONVILLE 10

Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

The Carolina Panthers defense pitched a shutout in the second half, and the offense navigated treacherous field conditions lifting Carolina to a 16-10 victory over Jacksonville. The Panthers got on the board first when defensive end Greg Hardy knocked Jaguars quarterback Blaine Gabbert off his feet in the end zone for a 2-0 lead. The lead was extended by three points after a 12-play, 45-yard drive that ended with an Olindo Mare 35-yard field goal. Jacksonville got on the board in the second quarter thanks to the strong right leg of kicker Josh Scobee who connected on a 53-yard field goal with 7:41 remaining in the half. They took the lead on the final play of the first half after a 39-yard run by Maurice Jones-Drew set up a 36-yard touchdown pass from rookie quarterback Blaine Gabbert to wide receiver Mike Thomas. The Carolina defense kept the offense within striking distance, but poor field conditions limited Carolina's ability to attack vertically. The rain was at its worst in the second quarter, but it continued into the third quarter and affected footing even after it stopped. After the rain relented, the sun eventually came out from the Panthers' perspective. Olindo Mare pulled Carolina within 10-8 with a 32-yard field goal late in the third quarter. With time running out the Panthers offense found its legs taking over at their own 45-yard line with 6:44 left after a 14-yard punt return by Armanti Edwards. Quarterback Cam Newton started the drive with an 18-yard screen to running back Jonathan Stewart, who led the team on the ground with 59 yards on 10 carries. Next, he hit wide receiver Steve Smith for 13 yards to get the Panthers into field goal range. Carolina, however, had no intention of settling. On third-and-2 from the 16, Newton located Olsen short over the middle, and Olsen cut to the left into open field and found the end zone. Olsen also caught a two-point lob from Newton for a 16-10 lead with 4:20 to play. The Jaguars got one final chance with 1:02 left from their own 20. Gabbert directed the offense to the Carolina 36 in the waning seconds, but Panthers linebacker Thomas Williams knocked down his last-second pass deep over the middle to seal the victory.

GAME 4 CHICAGO 34 – CAROLINA 29

October 2, 2011
Soldier Field • Chicago, IL

Carolina amassed a franchise-record 543 yards, but their first three drives of the second half into scoring range netted just three points, a major component in their 34-29 loss to the Chicago Bears at Soldier Field. Bears running back Matt Forte rushed 25 times for 205 yards and a touchdown and Carolina yielded a special-teams touchdown and a defensive touchdown to the Bears in the first half, forcing the Panthers to play a game of catch-up. After the teams traded touchdowns – an exchange that included a 53-yard catch by wide receiver Steve Smith that allowed him to surpass Muhsin Muhammad's career mark of 9,255 receiving yards – Devin Hester scurried 69 yards for his NFL-record 11th career punt return for a touchdown and a 24-10 first half lead. The Panthers fought back scoring 10 points before the half thanks to a two-yard touchdown run by quarterback Cam Newton and a 39-yard Olindo Mare field goal. Newton provided a spark for Carolina, completing 27-of-46 passes for 374 yards with one touchdown and one interception. Carolina posted 15 offensive plays of 15 or more yards on the day. Newton threw for 199 yards in the first half, scored twice on the ground and Smith, who finished with eight catches for 181 yards, caught six for 132 in the first half. Running backs Jonathan Stewart and DeAngelo Williams combined for 105 first-half yards on a day when Williams would rush for 82 and the team would gain 169. In the second half the Bears revved up their running game, feeding the ball to Forte on nine of the next 11 plays to set up a 24-yard field goal for a 27-23 lead with 6:41 to go. Forte finished the day accounting for 228 of the Bears' 317 yards. After a Marion Barber three-yard touchdown run with 1:23 remaining in the fourth quarter put the Bears up by 11 points, Carolina responded with a touchdown pass from Newton to former Bear Greg Olsen to cut the deficit to five with only four seconds left. An onside kick attempt failed for Carolina and Chicago escaped with the victory.

GAME 5 NEW ORLEANS 30 – CAROLINA 27

October 9, 2011
Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

Quarterback Drew Brees completed 32-of-45 passes for 359 yards and two touchdowns leading New Orleans to a 30-27 come-from-behind victory over Carolina. Carolina fell behind early after Saints cornerback Patrick Robinson intercepted Panthers quarterback Cam Newton on the first play of the game and returned it to the Carolina three-yard line. Three plays later, Brees found fullback Jed Collins, for a one-yard score to give the visitors the early lead. New Orleans tacked three more points on the board after a Carolina drive stalled, as Brees led the Saints on a 10-play, 70-yard drive capped by a John Kasay 37-yard field goal. Carolina fought back behind the arm of rookie quarterback Cam Newton and the legs of wide receiver Steve Smith. On third down from near midfield, Newton stepped up to avoid the rush and threw a bullet for Smith, who leaped and out battled cornerback Jabari Greer for the ball at the New Orleans 30, coming down with it and coasting to a 54-yard touchdown. Patrick Robinson blocked the PAT, but the Panthers still trimmed their deficit to 10-6. The Saints answered in the second quarter with a 14-play 86-yard march that consumed more than eight minutes, capped by a 1-yard run by Mark Ingram for a 17-6 lead with 5:27 left in the half. Carolina wasted little time responding. Newton faked a handoff to the right and instead flipped the ball back to the left for running back DeAngelo Williams who avoided multiple obstacles down the sideline on his way to a 69-yard touchdown to make it 17-13. The half ended with a 46-yard field goal from Kasay and a Saints 20-13 lead. After Kasay booted a 37-yard field goal on the opening drive of the second half to give the Saints a 23-13 edge, the Panthers responded with consecutive touchdown drives that totaled 23 plays, covered 139 yards and consumed 12 minutes of clock time. Trailing 27-23, the Saints took possession at their own 11-yard line with 7:06 to play, and Brees patiently directed his offense the length of the field. With 50 seconds to play, he hit running back Pierre Thomas out of the backfield for a 6-yard touchdown that spelled the difference.

GAME 6 ATLANTA 31 – CAROLINA 17

Georgia Dome • Atlanta, GA

Atlanta running back Michael Turner rushed for 139 yards and two touchdowns leading the Falcons to a 31-17 victory. Carolina took an early 3-0 lead when kicker Olindo Mare capped a drive that consumed nearly seven minutes with a 42-yard field goal. The teams then matched each other with 81-yard touchdown drives that lasted nearly five minutes before Atlanta struck again with a six-minute touchdown drive. The Falcons benefited from pass interference penalties on both touchdown marches. On the first one, wide receiver Roddy White drew a 37-yard penalty on safety Charles Godfrey in the end zone, setting up Turner for a one-yard touchdown plunge. On the second one, Falcons wide receiver Roddy White drew a 22-yard penalty on cornerback Chris Gamble at the 1, setting up a 1-yard touchdown pass from Ryan to fullback Ovie Mughelli. Trailing 14-10 at halftime, the Panthers got the ball to start the second half and consumed more than half the quarter on the way to reclaiming the lead with a 13-play, 80-yard march in 8:36. The drive featured four third-down conversions, including one on third-and-5 from the 14. Newton stepped up in the pocket to avoid a sack and then broke out into the open along the left side to score. He ran for 24 yards and completed 4-for-5 passes for 38 yards on the drive. The Panthers led 17-14 entering the fourth quarter, but the Falcons finished strong. On a day when the Panthers' defense mostly made life difficult for the Falcons passing game, Atlanta quarterback Matt Ryan came up with a clutch play to keep alive what proved to be the game-winning touchdown drive. With the game tied at 17 early in the fourth quarter and the Falcons facing third-and-12 from Carolina's 47-yard line, Ryan hit wide receiver Harry Douglas in the right flat for a 34-yard gain to the 13. Four plays later, Ryan inched his way over the goal line from the 1 for a 24-17 lead with seven minutes to play. The Panthers still had plenty of time to come back, but on their second play of the ensuing drive, 305-pound defensive tackle Corey Peters stepped into the path of a screen pass intended for running back DeAngelo Williams, and picked it off. It was the second of three interceptions for Newton, who completed 21-of-35 passes for 237 yards. The Falcons then iced it with a steady diet of Turner, putting it away when Turner scored from 2 yards out with 1:56 left.

GAME 7 CAROLINA 33 – WASHINGTON 20

October 23, 2011
Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

Quarterback Cam Newton completed 18-of-23 passes for 256 yards and a touchdown, and he rushed for 59 yards with another touchdown leading Carolina to 33-20 victory. The Panthers defense set the tone in the first half. In the final 30 seconds of the half in a 6-6 game, Washington wide receiver Jabar Gaffney fumbled on a short catch over the middle, and linebacker James Anderson recovered it at the Redskins' 34-yard line. That set up Olindo Mare for a 45-yard field goal with two seconds left and a lead the Panthers would not relinquish. After scoring three first-half field goals to lead 9-6, the Panthers scored three touchdowns to open the second half. After connecting with wide receiver Brandon LaFell for a 37-yard gain on their first possession in the second half, Newton took care of the rest with a 16-yard touchdown run that made it 16-6. Washington answered with a drive of their own capped by a four-yard touchdown run by quarterback John Beck to cut the Carolina lead to 16-13. Carolina wide receiver Steve Smith posted receptions of 33 and 15 yards, highlighting an 80-yard march culminated by a two-yard touchdown by running back Jonathan Stewart. The defense followed with a three-and-out stand, after which Smith caught passes covering 18 and 36 yards to set up LaFell for a 2-yard touchdown reception, giving Carolina a 30-13 advantage with 8:13 to play. The Redskins did answer with a touchdown, but Panthers cornerback Chris Gamble sealed it with an interception in the final minutes.

GAME 8 MINNESOTA 24 – CAROLINA 21

Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

Vikings running back Adrian Peterson posted 162 total yards with two scores to give Minnesota a 24-21 victory over Carolina. On Carolina's first offensive snap of the game, quarterback Cam Newton fumbled when linebacker E.J. Henderson hit him from behind, and Jared Allen scooped it up. Two plays later, Percy Harvin – lined up in the backfield – scampered through a seam up the middle for a 10-yard score. Carolina tied it early in the second quarter when Newton capped a 90-yard march with a 1-yard touchdown toss to Jeremy Shockey. The Panthers took the lead on their next drive, getting 39 of the 49 yards on the drive on a perfectly placed touchdown pass to Greg Olsen that he caught in stride at the 12. Carolina appeared likely to lead at the half after cornerback Captain Munnerlyn stymied a long Minnesota drive, stripping Harvin of the ball on a third-down conversion at Carolina's 5-yard line. With 1:03 to go, however, Allen got to Newton and forced another fumble. Linebacker Chad Greenway recovered the ball, and Peterson followed with a 20-yard run and then a middle screen that he turned into a 19-yard score with 42 seconds left in the half. The Panthers opened the second half with an impressive 80-yard march featuring a 23-yard catch by Legedu Naanee, a 24-yard designed run by Newton and finally a 22-yard touchdown reception by wide receiver Steve Smith for a 21-14 lead. The Vikings tied it up late in the third quarter when they got their running game going on a 90-yard march capped by Peterson's 9-yard touchdown run. They piled up 61 rushing yards on the possession - more than double their total output before the drive - including 48 yards on the first five snaps. The Panthers' offense racked up 405 yards, but went three consecutive possessions in the second half without a first down. The Vikings won with a 72-yard drive that consumed more than seven minutes of the fourth quarter and resulted in Longwell's field goal. The Panthers got a chance to answer. Facing fourth-and-15 from their own 35-yard line with 1:09 left, Newton spotted wide receiver Brandon LaFell deep over the middle, and LaFell sped down the left side for a 44-yard gain down to the 21. On third-and-3 from the 14 with 50 seconds to go, Newton took a quarterback keeper around the right side to inside the 3, but a holding call on Smith pushed it back to the 18, where a missed field goal ended the Carolina threat.

GAME 9 TENNESSEE 30 – CAROLINA 3

November 13, 2011
Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

Tennessee wide receiver Marc Mariani returned a punt down the left sideline 79 yards for a 7-0 lead 64 seconds into the game that led to 30-3 Titans victory over Carolina. Titans running back Chris Johnson rushed for 130 yards and a touchdown and quarterback Matt Hasselbeck completed 15-of-27 passes for 219 yards with one touchdown and one interception. Carolina had chances to be competitive in the game, but penalties and turnovers thwarted any momentum. Following Mariani's return, Carolina threatened to answer Mariani's pivotal play by advancing into the red zone on its ensuing possession, but a fumble at the 10-yard line was recovered by Tennessee. The Titans then needed just five plays to go 92 yards and double their lead, beginning with back-to-back receptions of 18 and 29 yards by tight end Jared Cook and running back Chris Johnson. On the next set of downs, facing third-and-8, wide receiver Damian Williams caught a ball short of the first down in the left flat but avoided an initial wave of tacklers and sprinted 43 yards for a touchdown and a 14-0 lead. The Titans extended their lead to 17-0 with a 38-yard field goal on the second play of the second quarter, a drive dotted by Panthers penalties. Carolina was flagged 12 times for 99 yards on the day. Panthers quarterback Cam Newton finished the day completing 23-of-40 passes for 212 yards with one interception. He was sacked a season-high five times. Carolina kicker Olindo Mare connected on a 36-yard field goal in the final minute of the third quarter to break up the shutout and bring Carolina within 20-3.The field goal was set up by an interception and 24-yard return by cornerback Chris Gamble, his franchise-record 26th career interception. Gamble had been tied with Eric Davis for the team record. The Titans, however, closed it out in the fourth quarter with Rob Bironas' third field goal and a 1-yard touchdown run by Johnson.

GAME 10 DETROIT 49 – CAROLINA 35

November 20, 2011
Ford Field • Detroit, MI

Carolina surrendered 35 second-half points and lost a 17-point lead en route to a 49-35 loss to Detroit. Lions running back Kevin Smith rushed for 140 yards and two touchdowns, while quarterback Matthew Stafford passed for 335 yards and five touchdowns in the victory. Carolina was dominant in the first half posting 229 yards and 13 first downs to lead 27-14. Carolina's defense forced Detroit into turnovers on each of its first three drives – interceptions by linebacker James Anderson and safety Charles Godfrey, then a fumble recovery by defensive tackle Andre Neblett. On offense Carolina capitalized on the Lions' turnovers. Quarterback Cam Newton connected on a 15-yard touchdown pass to Steve Smith and scored on a 11-yard run, one that gave him his eighth rushing touchdown – the most ever in NFL history by a rookie quarterback. Rookie wide receiver Kealoha Pilares contributed a franchise record 101-yard kickoff return for a touchdown. The second half belonged to Detroit. The Lions scored 35 points after halftime while piling up 282 yards and 17 first downs. They finished with 29 first downs, the most ever against Carolina. Detroit claimed a 35-27 lead midway through the fourth quarter, but the Panthers answered with an 80-yard touchdown drive. Newton capped the march with a 6-yard touchdown run, after which he hit Smith for the two point conversion to tie it. Lions quarterback Matthew Stafford, however, hooked up with wide receiver Calvin Johnson for a 30-yard gain to midfield on the first play of the next drive. A 16-yard completion to tight end Brandon Pettigrew and a 12-yard run by Kevin Smith – with a personal foul penalty tacked on – moved Detroit inside the 10. Stafford found Pettigrew on third-and-goal from the 7 in the middle of the end zone for his fifth touchdown pass and a 42-35 lead with 2:32 to play. Carolina got one more chance, but on the first play of the ensuing drive, safety Chris Harris intercepted a tipped pass over the middle. Kevin Smith sealed it with a 19-yard touchdown run at the two-minute warning.

GAME 11 CAROLINA 27 – INDIANAPOLIS 19

Lucas Oil Stadium • Indianapolis, IN

DeAngelo Williams rushed 15 times for 69 yards and two touchdowns, and quarterback Cam Newton added 53 yards on the ground with a score, leading Carolina to a 27-19 win over Indianapolis. The Panthers jumped on the Colts early after Newton scored on the third play of the second quarter, a called run out of the shotgun from 14 yards out, giving Carolina a 10-0 lead. The Colts showed life on their next drive, picking up their initial first down before, on third-and-3 from their own 41, a deep pass intended for receiver Reggie Wayne resulted in a 42-yard pass interference penalty. On the next play, running back Donald Brown sped around the right side for a 17-yard touchdown to make it 10-7. The Colts later tied it at 10, and defensive end Jamaal Anderson blocked Mare's 45-yard field goal attempt on the final play of the half. The second half belonged to Carolina early. Williams capped a seven play, 64-yard drive with a 25-yard touchdown run. Just when it looked like the Panthers were pulling away, taking a 24-13 lead on a beautiful 80-yard drive capped by Williams' second rushing touchdown of the half, the Colts refused to go away. Quarterback Curtis Painter hit wide receiver Reggie Wayne over the middle at the Carolina 45 and Wayne took off in the open field for a 56-yard touchdown that moved the Colts within 24-19 after a failed two-point attempt. Panthers rookie Kealoha Pilares who had a team-record 101-yard kickoff return touchdown a week prior, returned the ensuing kickoff 76 yards to the Indianapolis 32, setting up Olindo Mare's 41-yard field goal with 5:53 left that extended the lead to 27-19. From there, it was up to the defense. First, the Colts drove to the Carolina 33 before cornerback Chris Gamble stepped in front of wide receiver Pierre Garcon in the end zone and intercepted a pass with 4:21 to play. Indianapolis held Carolina without a first down and got the ball back with 3:09 to go. The Colts moved 74 yards, including a fourth-and-5 conversion at the Carolina 15, before Godfrey tipped a pass in the back of the end zone, and Martin corralled the ball just before stepping out of bounds to secure the victory.

GAME 12 CAROLINA 38 – TAMPA BAY 19

December 4, 2011
Raymond James Stadium • Tampa, FL

Carolina quarterback Cam Newton rushed for three one-yard touchdowns and passed for another to lead the Panthers to a 38-19 victory over Tampa Bay. Both teams scored four times in the first half, but while all of Tampa Bay's scoring drives ended with field goals, the Panthers kicked extra points before a field goal drive in the final seconds put them ahead 24-12 at the break. The Panthers came out on fire, racking up 126 yards on a pair of touchdown drives while limiting the Buccaneers to minus-15 yards in between to build a 14-0 lead. First, running plays of 19 and 31 yards for Jonathan Stewart, sandwiched between a 21-yard pass to tight end Greg Olsen, led to a 1-yard touchdown run by Newton. Then, a 27-yard pass from wide receiver Legedu Nanee to Newton after Newton had tossed a lateral to Naanee set up Stewart to score from a yard out. With starting defensive tackle Sione Fua sidelined by a hamstring injury suffered in pregame warmups and fellow starter Terrell McClain missing most of the game with a knee injury, Carolina held bruising running back LeGarrette Blount to 19 yards on 11 carries. Carolina tallied three touchdowns before halftime without giving up a single one, yet the lead was tenuous thanks to four field goals of 44 or more yards by Buccaneers kicker Connor Barth. Tampa Bay, behind backup quarterback Josh Johnson, drove to Carolina's 30-yard line to open the second half when Panthers defensive end Greg Hardy, hit Johnson – who was filling in for injured starter Josh Freeman – as he threw, allowing defensive end Thomas Keiser to snag the wobbling ball. The Panthers offense then went 61 yards in six plays to extend the lead to 31-12. Newton hit wide receiver Brandon LaFell for a 28-yard gain and rushed 20 yards on an option keeper to the 3 to set himself up for a 1-yard touchdown run. Early in the fourth quarter, Newton found the end zone for the third time on another 1-yard run, this one capping a 15-play, 91-yard march for a 38-12 lead. The touchdown established a NFL record for most rushing touchdowns by a quarterback in a season, breaking the previous mark of 12 by Steve Grogan of the New England Patriots in 1976. Newton finished with 54 rushing yards on 14 carries and completed 12-of-21 passes for 204 yards and one touchdown with no interceptions.

GAME 13 ATLANTA 31 – CAROLINA 23

Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

After trailing 23-7 at halftime, Atlanta scored 24 unanswered second-half points to win 31-23 at Carolina. Falcons quarterback Matt Ryan completed 28-of-38 passes for 320 yards and four touchdowns, two to rookie wide receiver Julio Jones. Carolina built an early lead thanks to the arm of quarterback Cam Newton and the legs of running back DeAngelo Williams. Newton tossed touchdown passes to tight ends Jeremy Shockey (six yards) and Greg Olsen (44 yards). Carolina capped the first half with a beautiful 74-yard touchdown run by Williams. The Falcons took the lead with 17 unanswered points in the second half. The Panthers drove into the red zone with just over five minutes to go, but missed a 35-yard field goal wide left. On the second play of the ensuing drive, the Falcons Jones got free for his second touchdown of the half, a 75-yarder with 4:17 left for a 31-23 lead. That still left the Panthers within a touchdown and two-point conversion of tying it. On third-and-10 from their own 20, Newton heaved a pass deep for wide receiver Steve Smith who hauled in the 48-yarder and managed to stay inbounds despite being blanketed by cornerback Dunta Robinson. From the Atlanta 27, however, they couldn't punch it in, and Atlanta took over possession again with 3:31 to play. They sealed it when they dared to throw on third-and-6 after the two-minute warning, and Roddy White came up with a diving 14-yard catch. Carolina had no timeouts remaining, and the Falcons ran out the clock. The Falcons regained the lead by nearly scoring on each of their first four drives after halftime and bottling up Carolina's offense. After a field goal on the Falcons' first drive of the half, they seized momentum with a Mike Peterson interception. Two plays later, reserve running back Jacquizz Rodgers scored on a 31-yard heave from Ryan to make it 23-17. The Falcons completed their comeback early in the fourth quarter with a 10-play, 90-yard drive, keyed early by a 26-yard reception by White on third-and-6 and capped by a 17-yard touchdown catch by Jones for a 24-23 lead with 12:42 remaining.

GAME 14 CAROLINA 28 – HOUSTON 13

Reliant Stadium • Houston, TX

Quarterback Cam Newton completed 13-of-23 passes for 149 yards and two touchdowns, while running back DeAngelo Williams rushed for 61 yards and score leading the Panthers to a 28-13 victory over Houston. Carolina forced Houston to play catch-up by dominating the first half. On the game's second play, linebackers James Anderson and Jordan Senn forced running back Arian Foster to fumble, and Anderson recovered at Houston's 26-yard line. Four plays later, Newton lofted a perfect pass to wide receiver Steve Smith for a 26-yard score and a 7-0 lead. After Houston missed a 49-yard field goal late in the first quarter, Carolina's offense went to work yet again. A 19-yard catch by Smith on third-and-15 jumpstarted the drive. Then a 17-yard grab by tight end Greg Olsen on third-and-3 set up tight end Jeremy Shockey for a nine-yard scoring catch. After the Texans crossed midfield for the third time in half, Carolina's defense again stiffened, and Senn made another play, stepping in the path of quarterback T.J. Yates pass and returning his first career interception 21 yards to the Houston 48. On the resulting drive, the Panthers dug deep into the playbook to increase their advantage to 21-0. From the seven-yard line fullback Richie Brockel lined up beside Newton in the shotgun and Newton sheepishly laid off the ball between Brockel's legs and into his hands. Brockel remained stationary while Newton faked like he was running with the ball to the right, then Brockel took off around the left side untouched for his first NFL touchdown. A 42-yard punt return by Jacoby Jones after the Panthers offense went three-and-out to open the half changed the momentum and helped Houston move inside Carolina's 10-yard line. However, the Texans settled for a 26-yard field goal. Houston gained 75 yards on its next drive, but Carolina again held in the red zone, forcing a 34-yard field goal by Rackers that made it 21-6. Houston finally found the end zone on their next drive that started in the third quarter and ended early in the fourth, going 68 yards behind hard running from Foster, who capped it with a 1-yard plunge to make it 21-13 with 13:48 remaining. The Texans top-ranked defense held the Panthers to one first down in the third quarter, and their offense found its footing behind Foster. But the Panthers countered with an 80-yard touchdown march to extend the lead to 28-13 with 9:54 left, punctuated by a 24-yard run by Williams to secure the victory over the AFC South champions.

GAME 15 CAROLINA 48 – TAMPA BAY 16

Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

Quarterback Cam Newton completed 12-of-17 passes for 171 yards with three touchdowns and rushed for a 49-yard score leading Carolina to a 48-16 victory over Tampa Bay. Carolina got off to a fast start thanks to the defense on Tampa Bay's first possession when James Anderson dove on a loose ball at Tampa Bay's 8-yard line. The Panthers converted the turnover into a 21-yard field goal from Olindo Mare for a 10-0 lead. The Buccaneers responded by taking 26 of the game's next 28 offensive snaps. First, Tampa Bay consumed 9:20 while covering 80 yards in 15 plays, capped by Arrelious Benn's 4-yard touchdown reception. The next time the Buccaneers had the ball, they went 61 yards in 11 plays for a 42-yard field goal from Connor Barth. In between Tampa Bay's scores, however, the Panthers needed just two plays to find the end zone – in historic fashion. After a 1-yard run by Jonathan Stewart to Carolina's 9, Newton spotted wide receiver Brandon LaFell near the 30. LaFell stopped and jumped to snare the ball and then took off, with Steve Smith supplying the final block that sprung him for a 91-yard touchdown – the longest offensive play in team history. DeAngelo Williams and Stewart were the driving force behind Carolina's 270 rushing yards. Williams started the scoring with an 8-yard touchdown run to cap an 80-yard drive following the opening kickoff. On the first play of the drive, Stewart moved into second place on the Panthers' all-time rushing list behind Williams with a 13-yard rush that moved him ahead of DeShaun Foster. Carolina's offense put up the second-most points in franchise history and tied for the second-most rushing yards. The defense forced three turnovers, and special teams came up with yet another. Carolina scored on every first-half possession, yet Tampa Bay remained within range, trailing 20-10 at halftime. To start the third quarter, rookie safety Jonathan Nelson made an interception that he returned 20 yards to Tampa Bay's 32-yard line, setting the stage for Williams to scamper 22 yards for a touchdown and a 27-10 lead. Later in the quarter, the defense made another play. Tight end Kellen Winslow caught a pass on a flea-flicker of sorts but fumbled on a hit by Anderson and defensive tackle Andre Neblett recovered. The Panthers quickly went 61 yards for another touchdown, this one on an 11-yard pass to Stewart on fourth-and-1 for a 34-10 lead. The Buccaneers crossed midfield on their ensuing drive but gave up the ball on downs, setting up Newton to keep the ball on an option play and speed down the middle for a 49-yard touchdown, the longest run by a quarterback in franchise history. Tampa Bay wide receiver Sammie Stroughter then fumbled the kickoff on a huge hit by linebacker Jason Williams and cornerback Josh Thomas recovered at the 8. On the first play of the fourth quarter, Newton hit tight end Jeremy Shockey for the Panthers final score.

GAME 16 NEW ORLEANS 45 – CAROLINA 17

Superdome • New Orleans, LA

New Orleans quarterback Drew Brees finished with 389 passing yards and five touchdowns leading New Orleans to a 45-17 victory over Carolina. The Panthers had 235 yards in the first half but just 66 in the second half to total 301. Rookie quarterback Cam Newton, who finished 15-of-25 for 158 yards and rushed for 32 yards, became the first quarterback in NFL history to pass for 4,000 yards and rush for at least 500 yards in a season. The game was up for grabs at halftime, with New Orleans leading 24-17, but the Saints seized control in the third quarter. While New Orleans forced Carolina into the first three punts of the game on the Panthers' first three second-half possessions, tight end Jimmy Graham caught a 19-yard touchdown from Brees with 8:54 left in the third quarter, fullback Jed Collins caught a 1-yard touchdown with 3:47 left in the third quarter, and running back Darren Sproles caught a 9-yard touchdown with 12:15 left in the game. Five of the Saints' six touchdowns came through the air, but they excelled on the ground as well, gaining 208 yards. Both offenses were virtually unstoppable in the early going, with it looking like both teams would find the end zone on each of their first two drives of the game. The Saints did, with touchdown drives of 80 and 83 yards. The Panthers almost did, with drives of 80 and 78 yards. Carolina scored on its first possession on a 12-yard touchdown pass from Newton to wide receiver Steve Smith but turned it over on its second drive. The Saints went right back down the field, but the Panthers defense answered once New Orleans reached the red zone. From Carolina's 19, Brees threw a pass down the left side that cornerback R.J. Stanford stepped in front of and picked off, returning the interception 53 yards to the Saints 36. The teams then traded field goals before Carolina caught up with a lightning strike of its own. Receptions of 20 yards by Smith and 14 yards by Brandon LaFell set up running back Jonathan Stewart to steam 29 yards untouched on a draw for a touchdown to tie it at 17 with 1:18 left in the first half. The second-half was all New Orleans.

NFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFFS

CAROLINA 26 – DALLAS 17

January 5, 1997
Ericsson Stadium • Charlotte, NC

WEATHER: Partly Cloudy, 67º, Wind SW 15 mph - ATTENDANCE: 72,808 - TIME: 2:58

In the first playoff game in team history, the Carolina Panthers stuck to a formula that had worked all season, using an opportunistic offense, a Sam Mills led defense, solid special teams and an uplifting record-sized crowd to defeat the defending Super Bowl Champion Dallas Cowboys 26-17.

Running back Anthony Johnson earned his sixth 100-yard game of the season behind a performance by the offensive line which did not allow quarterback Kerry Collins to be sacked all day. Collins completed a workmanlike 12 of 22 passes for 100 yards and two touchdowns and directed the team to 17 first-half points. The defense supplied a team effort with interceptions by Chad Cota, Pat Terrell and Mills and sacks by Lamar Lathon and Les Miller, while successfully executing three goal-line stands from inside their own five-yard line. Kicker John Kasay converted on all four field goal attempts.

The Cowboys took a 3-0 lead on a 22-yard field goal before a Collins pass to Wesley Walls following a 68-yard drive put the Panthers ahead 7-3. After trading touchdowns, the Cowboys got within three following a Panthers safety when a snap sailed over punter Rohn Stark's head. Cota's interception on Dallas' ensuing possession, however, set up a 24-yard Kasay field goal and a 17-11 halftime lead.

The two teams traded field goals in the third quarter and again to begin the fourth, with Chris Boniol converting twice from 21 and Kasay twice from 40. After the Panthers downed a Stark punt at the one, Terrell's interception set up a Kasay 32-yard conversion before Mills' interception and return to the one, sealed the game.

NFC CHAMPIONSHIP

GREEN BAY 30 – CAROLINA 13

January 12, 1997
Lambeau Field • Green Bay, WI

WEATHER: Cold and Windy, 3º, Wind W 10 mph - ATTENDANCE: 60,216 - TIME: 3:04

On a day with wind chill tempratures at more than 20 below zero, the Carolina Panthers surrendered 17 second-quarter points and 479 yards of total offense to the Green Bay Packers and fell one game short of the Super Bowl, 30-13.

The Panthers got ahead early following a Sam Mills interception at the Green Bay 12, which was returned to the two. Kerry Collins found fullback Howard Griffith all alone in the end zone two plays later for a 7-0 Carolina lead.

After Brett Favre drove the Packers for their first touchdown, the Panthers replied with a John Kasay 22-yard field goal following a Lamar Lathon recovery of a Favre fumble. The Packers came back with a touchdown and a field goal before the half, however, and held a 17-10 advantage at the break.

Both teams traded field goals to open the second half before a Dorsey Levens 66-yard reception off a screen set up a Packers touchdown. A Packers fourth-quarter field goal following a Panthers fumble supplied the 30-13 margin.

Mills led the defense with 14 tackles and an interception while Collins completed 19 of 37 passes for 215 yards, with a touchdown and two interceptions. Willie Green led all Panthers in receiving with 51 yards on five receptions.

NFC WILDCARD GAME

CAROLINA 29 – DALLAS 10

January 2, 2004
Ericsson Stadium • Charlotte, NC

WEATHER: Partly Cloudy, 63º, Wind SSW 9 mph - ATTENDANCE: 72,324 - TIME: 2:56

Behind a dominating defense, Carolina defeated the Dallas Cowboys, 29-10, at Ericsson Stadium to reach the second-round of the playoffs for the first time since the 1996 season. The Panthers held the Cowboys to 204 yards of total offense while not committing any penalties or turnovers.

Quarterback Jake Delhomme completed 18-of-29 passes for 273 yards and a touchdown, running back Stephen Davis rushed 26 times for 104 yards, wide receiver Steve Smith caught five passes for 135 yards and a touchdown, and kicker John Kasay converted on all five of his field goal attempts.

On Carolina's third play from scrimmage, Delhomme hit Smith in the flat, and Smith raced 70 yards to the Cowboys one-yard line. Four plays later Kasay booted his first field goal from 18 yards out, and the Panthers never looked back.

Carolina took advantage of field position later in the first quarter as Kasay made his second field goal, this time from 38 yards, to give the Panthers a 6-0 lead. In the second quarter, Carolina started another drive in Dallas territory, and Davis rambled 23 yards for a touchdown to give the Panthers a 13-0 lead.

Cowboys kicker Billy Cundiff put Dallas on the board with a 37-yard field goal late in the second quarter. Carolina got one more field goal from Kasay to close out the first half leaving the score 16-3 at the break.

The Panthers added a 32-yard Delhomme-to-Smith touchdown pass and Kasay's fourth field goal to stretch the lead to 26-3 before Dallas answered with a nine-yard touchdown run by quarterback Quincy Carter. Kasay's fifth field goal with 3:12 remaining provided the final margin.

Panthers middle linebacker Dan Morgan led the defense with 12 tackles, while Al Wallace, Kris Jenkins and Reggie Howard contributed a sack a piece. Davis posted his eighth 100-yard rushing game of the season.

NFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFFS

CAROLINA 29 – ST. LOUIS 23 (2 OT)

January 10, 2004
Edward Jones Dome • St. Louis, MO

WEATHER: Played Indoors on Artificial Turf - ATTENDANCE: 66,165 - TIME: 4:06

The Panthers defeated the host St. Louis Rams 29-23 in double overtime at the Edward Jones Dome to earn their second trip to the NFC Championship Game. Steve Smith took a pass from Jake Delhomme and sprinted to a game-winning touchdown to closeout the game, the fifth-longest in NFL history and the longest ever for the Panthers.

The Carolina defense held the Rams to two field goals in the first half before Panthers wide receiver Muhsin Muhammad recovered a deflected lateral by Delhomme in the end zone for a touchdown. Each team added a field goal each, to give the Panthers a one-point lead at the half, 10-9.

The Panthers built an 11-point lead in the fourth quarter off a Brad Hoover touchdown and John Kasay field goal, but the Rams scored 11 points in the last 2:39 of regulation to force overtime.

The Panthers took the opening drive of overtime to the St. Louis 22-yard line, but a delay-of-game penalty canceled Kasay's successful 40-yard field goal. Kasay then missed the second attempt three plays later from 45 yards out.

The Rams drove to the Carolina 35-yard line on their first possession in overtime, but kicker Jeff Wilkins, who had already made five field goals, was inches short on a 53-yard attempt.

The Rams then drove to the Panthers 38-yard line on their ensuing possession when cornerback Ricky Manning Jr. outwrestled Rams receiver Torry Holt for the ball and came down with the interception.

Facing third-and-14 from their own 31-yard line on the first play of the second overtime, Delhomme hit Smith on a slant pattern for 69 yards and the game-winning points.

The Panthers outgained the Rams 485 yards to 380, including 216 to 64 in rushing yardage. They won the time of possession battle 41:06 to 34:04 and held the Rams to just six possessions and 12 points through the first three quarters.

Delhomme completed 16-of-26 passes for 290 yards, with one touchdown and one interception for a quarterback rating of 96.6. Running back DeShaun Foster stepped in for an injured Stephen Davis, who left the game in the second quarter, and contributed 95 yards on 21 carries.

NFC CHAMPIONSHIP

CAROLINA 14 – PHILADELPHIA 3

January 18, 2004
Lincoln Financial Field • Philadelphia, PA

WEATHER: Mostly Cloudy, 33º, Wind WNW 19 mph - ATTENDANCE: 67,862 - TIME: 2:58

In just their ninth season of existence, the Panthers claimed a bid to Super Bowl XXXVIII by defeating the Philadelphia Eagles 14-3 at Lincoln Financial Field in the NFC Championship game. Carolina took advantage of four interceptions, three by rookie cornerback Ricky Manning, to hold the Philadelphia offense to only one field goal.

The first quarter was scoreless as both teams punted twice. Early in the second quarter, a Carolina fumble was recovered by Jermaine Wiggins to gain the first down and allow the Panthers to continue what would be the first scoring drive of the game.

On first-and-10 from the Philadelphia 24-yard line, Delhomme hit wide receiver Muhsin Muhammad in the end zone for the score. A John Kasay PAT kick gave the Panthers a 7-0 lead.

The Eagles answered with a 14-play, 44-yard drive that culminated with a 41-yard field goal by David Akers. The Eagles were driving again in the final two minutes of the half when Manning grabbed his first interception.

On the opening drive of the second half, the Eagles drove to the Panthers 18-yard line, but Manning again came up with the big play, intercepting Donovan McNabb at the 14-yard line.

A hit by Mike Minter on Eagles wide receiver James Thrash enabled Manning to record his third interception and put the Panthers in position for their final score. With 4:18 remaining in the third quarter, running back DeShaun Foster produced the game's second touchdown, breaking five tackles and reaching over the goal line on a one-yard run.

The Eagles went three-and-out on their final two possessions of the third quarter, and their final threat ended midway through the fourth quarter when backup quarterback Koy Detmer, who replaced an injured McNabb, was intercepted by Dan Morgan at the Carolina 11-yard line to thwart the Eagles final significant scoring opportunity.

Morgan led Carolina with 13 tackles and one interception while Brentson Buckner contributed 1.5 sacks. Running back Stephen Davis added 76 yards on 19 carries as the Panthers rushed for a total of 155 yards.

SUPER BOWL XXXVIII
NEW ENGLAND 32 – CAROLINA 29

February 1, 2004
Reliant Stadium • Houston, TX

WEATHER: Played indoors on grass - ATTENDANCE: 71,525 - TIME: 4:05

In their first Super Bowl, the Carolina Panthers scored 19 fourth-quarter points to tie New England with one minute remaining, but kicker Adam Vinatieri converted a 41-yard field goal to give the Patriots a 32-29 victory for their second Super Bowl victory in three seasons.

The first quarter was scoreless, with help from the Panthers defense who kept New England off the board by blocking one Vinatieri field goal and withstanding another missed attempt.

In the second quarter, a Carolina fumble on the 19-yard line was recovered by defensive tackle Richard Seymour and set up a Tom Brady five-yard touchdown pass to Deion Branch. The touchdown broke the tie with 3:10 remaining in the half, the longest a Super Bowl had ever gone without a score.

Quarterback Jake Delhomme led the Panthers on an eight-play, 95-yard drive, the second longest in Super Bowl history, that culminated with a Delhomme-to-Steve Smith touchdown pass from 39 yards out.

Brady completed four of six passes for 78 yards, and with 23 seconds remaining in the half, hit wide receiver David Givens with another five-yard touchdown pass to put the Patriots back in front, 14-7.

Kris Mangum returned a kickoff to the Panthers 47-yard line and after a 21-yard run by Stephen Davis, the Panthers called timeout with five seconds left. John Kasay booted a 50-yard field goal as the first half expired to make it 14-10.

On the second play of the fourth quarter, Patriots running back Antowain Smith scored on a two-yard run that extended the New England lead to 21-10.

DeShaun Foster finished a six-play, 81-yard Panther drive with a 33-yard touchdown run, the fourth-longest run in Super Bowl history. Carolina missed on their two-point attempt and the score was 21-16.

New England drove down the field and threatened to extend their lead once again, but Reggie Howard intercepted Brady's pass in the end zone and returned it to the 10-yard line.

Three plays later, Delhomme hit Muhsin Muhammad for an 85-yard touchdown, giving the Panthers their first lead with 7:06 remaining in the game. The Panthers missed on another two-point attempt, keeping the score 22-21.

The scoring continued as the Patriots drove 68 yards in 11 plays, ending with a Mike Vrabel touchdown. New England converted their two-point attempt and led 29-22 with 2:55 remaining.

Delhomme then drove his team 80 yards on just seven plays, hitting Ricky Proehl across the middle for a 12-yard touchdown that tied the game with 1:13 remaining. However, Brady mounted one last scoring drive to set up Vinatieri at the Carolina 34-yard line for the winning kick.

NFC WILDCARD GAME

CAROLINA 23 – NEW YORK GIANTS 0

January 8, 2006
Giants Stadium • East Rutherford, NJ

WEATHER: Sunny, 44º, Wind NW 6 mph - ATTENDANCE: 79,378 - TIME: 2:39

Carolina's defense held a New York Giants offense that ranked third in the NFL in points per game scoreless en route to notching the third shutout in team history with a 23-0 victory over the Giants in the NFC Wild Card game. Carolina became the first team to register a shutout on the road in the playoffs since 1980 when the Los Angeles Rams posted a 9-0 victory at Tampa Bay (01/05/80) in the 1979 NFC Championship. The Panthers forced five sacks and five turnovers, converting four of them into 16 points. The defense yielded a season-low 132 total net yards to New York, who ranked fourth in the NFL in total offense during the regular season with an average of 361.7 yards per game. Running back DeShaun Foster rushed for 151 yards to help the Panthers accumulate 223 yards rushing on 45 attempts and maintain possession for 42:45. The time of possession was the highest in team history for any game, bettering the previous record of 41:51 at New Orleans (12/05/04). The team's rushing attempts tied for the most in team history and the rushing yards equalled the second-highest total. Safety Marlon McCree matched his career-high with two interceptions.

NFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFFS
CAROLINA 29 – CHICAGO 21

January 15, 2006
Soldier Field • Chicago, IL

WEATHER: Partly Cloudy, 40°, Wind SE 15 mph - ATTENDANCE: 62,209 - TIME: 3:23

Carolina totaled 434 yards against the NFL's second-ranked defense in a 29-21 victory over the Chicago Bears in the NFC Divisional Playoffs. The contest marked the Panthers fourth consecutive postseason road victory to equal the NFL record for the most consecutive road postseason victories, previously accomplished by Dallas from 1975-81. The Panthers became the fourth team since 1990 to win an NFC Divisional Playoff game on the road. Carolina allowed one sack against the Bears after allowing a season-high eight in their regular season contest at Chicago (11/20/05) and scored 29 points against a Bears defense that allowed a League-low 12.9 points per game during the regular season and a total of 61 points at home during the regular season. Wide receiver Steve Smith amassed 218 yards receiving, the most in team history and fourth-highest total in a playoff game in NFL history, and two touchdowns on 12 receptions, which tied for the second-most catches in NFL postseason history. Quarterback Jake Delhomme registered his second career 300-yard passing effort in the playoffs and his fifth postseason game with a passer rating of 100 or more. The Panthers defense yielded only three-of-13 third down conversions against the Bears. With the victory, head coach John Fox became only the fifth head coach in NFL history to record at least four postseason road wins.

NFC CHAMPIONSHIP
SEATTLE 34 – CAROLINA 14

January 22, 2006
Qwest Field • Seattle, WA

WEATHER: Overcast, 48º, Wind S 14 mph - ATTENDANCE: 67,837 - TIME: 3:09

Seattle's defense forced four turnovers and held the Panthers to 212 total yards in a 34-14 victory in the 2005 NFC Championship Game. Carolina was limited to 36 yards by the Seahawks fifth-ranked rushing defense and converted only one-of-nine third down opportunities. Interceptions on consecutive Carolina possessions enabled Seattle to transform a 7-0 lead into a 17-0 advantage in the second quarter. Wide receiver Steve Smith established an NFL record for the most catches in a postseason with 27, surpassing the previous mark of 23 set by Anthony Carter with Minnesota in the 1987 postseason. Smith's 59-yard punt return for a touchdown enabled him to become the first player in NFL history to score a touchdown on a run, pass and punt return in the same postseason. Running back Nick Goings, who started in place of the injured DeShaun Foster, was shaken up in the first quarter and did not return to the game.

August 13 — The Panthers retired jersey number 51, making Sam Mills the only player in team history to receive the honor. Mills played for the Panthers from 1995-97 and earned a Pro Bowl selection in 1996. After retiring in 1997, Mills became a scout for the Panthers in 1998 and served as the team's linebackers coach from 1999-2004. He became the first former player and second member of the Panthers Hall of Honor in 1998.

January 8 — The Panthers registered the first road playoff shutout in the NFL since 1979, defeating the New York Giants, 23-0. In holding scoreless a New York team that ranked third in the League in scoring during the regular season, Carolina became the first NFL team to register a shutout on the road in the playoffs since the Los Angeles Rams posted a 9-0 victory at Tampa Bay (1/5/80) in the 1979 NFC Championship. Ironically, the last time head coach John Fox coached a playoff game at Giants Stadium, his defense also pitched a shutout. With Fox as the Giants defensive coordinator, New York shut out Minnesota, 41-0, in the 2000 NFC Championship. The shutout was Carolina's third in team history as the Panthers limited New York to 132 total net yards and rushed for 223 yards on offense.

January 15 — The Panthers won their fourth consecutive road game in the playoffs to equal the NFL record for the most consecutive postseason road victories, previously accomplished by the Dallas Cowboys from 1975-81. With the win, head coach John Fox became only the fifth head coach in NFL history to record at least four postseason victories. Wide receiver Steve Smith amassed 218 receiving yards and two touchdowns on 12 receptions. His receiving yardage ranked as the most in team history and the fourth-highest postseason total in NFL history. His 12 catches tied for the second-highest total in NFL postseason annals.

2008

December 28 — Carolina defeats the New Orleans Saints, 33-31, on a John Kasay game-winning 42-yard field goal with one second remaining to clinch the NFC South division title and earn the franchise's fourth-ever playoff berth. The Panthers finished the regular season with a 12 victories, equaling the most wins in team history.

2009

September 1 — Jon Richardson resigns as president of Bank of America Stadium and Mark Richardson resigns as president of the Carolina Panthers.

September 2 — Danny Morrison is named president of the Carolina Panthers. He joins the organization with experience as Texas Christian University athletics director, Southern Conference commissioner and Wofford College athletics director and senior vice president.

2011

January 11 — The Panthers name Ron Rivera as the fourth head coach in franchise history. Carolina is the first head coaching position for Rivera, who previously served as defensive coordinator for the San Diego Chargers beginning midway through the 2008 season. A linebacker on the Chicago Bears 1985 Super Bowl Championship team, Rivera also served as defensive coordinator for the Bears from 2004-06.

April 28 — The Panthers select quarterback Cam Newton with the No. 1 overall selection in the 2011 NFL Draft. Newton is named Associated Press Offensive Rookie of the Year after a record-setting rookie campaign. Newton accounted for an NFL rookie record 35 total touchdowns (21 passing, 14 rushing), passed for an NFL rookie record 4,051 yards and rushed for an NFL quarterback record 14 touchdowns.

2012

January 29 — Carolina makes the first logo refinement in the team's 18-year history. It has been designed to provide a more aggressive, contemporary look to the logo while making it more three-dimensional for ever-increasing digital use. The primary tweaks made by the creative department of the National Football League are primarily in the features in the eyes and mouth.

TRAINING CAMP

The Carolina Panthers summer training camp home is at Wofford College in Spartanburg, S.C. The Panthers are housed in Wofford's 60,000 square-foot Richardson Physical Activities Building, which boasts a spacious weight room, locker room and training facilities in addition to coaches offices and meeting rooms.

A member of the Southern Conference and NCAA Division I, Wofford is one of the smallest schools in the nation playing Division I football with its enrollment of 1,550. The Terriers compete in the Football Championship Subdivision (FCS), formerly known as Division I-AA.

The Wofford football team is one of only five teams nationally to have advanced to the NCAA FCS playoffs four times in the last five seasons. The Terriers won the Southern Conference title in 2003, 2007 and 2010. In 2003 the team advanced to the FCS national semifinals, while reaching the quarterfinals in 2007 and 2010.

Academically, Wofford's football team is traditionally among the top 10 percent in the nation as judged by the Academic Progress Rate (APR). The Terriers have placed 104 student-athletes on the Academic All-Southern Conference team in the last nine years, more than double the number of the second place team.

The Wofford men's basketball team won the 2010 and 2011 Southern Conference Championships and advanced to the NCAA Tournament. In 2010, head coach Mike Young was named the national Mid-Major Coach of the Year and Noah Dahlman earned All-America honors. In the 2010 NCAA Tournament, the Terriers played Wisconsin. In 2011 the team faced BYU in the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Brad Loesing was named a first team Academic All-American in 2012.

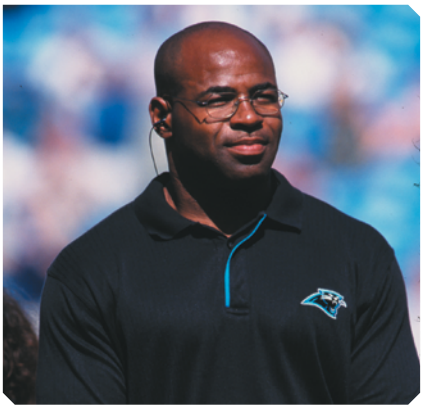
The men's soccer team won the Southern Conference championship and earned a bid to the NCAA Tournament in 2009. The baseball team has defeated South Carolina twice in the last four years and in 2007 won the Southern Conference Tournament Championship and advanced to the NCAA Tournament.

Among its alumni, the athletic program counts Panthers Owner/Founder Jerry Richardson as well as former Air Force head football coach Fisher DeBerry and ESPN personality Wendi Nix. Wofford receives strong support from its alumni and friends. The Terrier Club, with 100 percent of all contributions supporting scholarships for Wofford student-athletes, raised a record $1.5 million in 2011.

Wofford consistently lands on 'best value' lists in various national college guides and publications. Among those are the 2010 editions of Kiplinger's Personal Finance, US News and World Report and The Princeton Review. The Village, Wofford's apartment-style housing for senior students, has also received a number of national recognitions.

Having conducted its first session during the 1854-55 academic year, Wofford is one of only a handful of American colleges of that era to have operated continuously on its original site. The first independent college in South Carolina to receive a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, Wofford has a proud history. The entire 150-acre campus is maintained as a national arboretum. Wofford ranks fifth in the nation among baccalaureate institutions in the percentage of students receiving academic credit for studies abroad.

PANTHERS HALL OF HONOR



On September 21, 1997 former team president Mike McCormack became the first member of the Panthers Hall of Honor. In 1998, he was joined by former linebacker Sam Mills, who entered as the first former Panthers player to be so honored.

Both Mills and McCormack, who retired as president of the Carolina Panthers in March 1996, were recognized for their high contributions to the Panthers organization with a life-sized bronze statue sculpted by Todd Andrews, who created the famous bronze Panthers that flank each stadium entrance. The statues were placed at the northeast corner of the stadium where they will be joined by statues of future inductees.

"There is no one more appropriate than Mike to start our Hall of Honor," said Panthers Owner/Founder Jerry Richardson at the time of McCormack's induction. "The Carolina Panthers would not even exist without Mike's contributions, and he epitomizes all we want the Panthers to symbolize."

While McCormack's National Football League career spanned five decades and a number of teams, he may have left his most indelible mark on the Panthers. Starting as a consultant in 1989, McCormack provided an invaluable contact for the Richardson ownership group as they lobbied NFL ownership and hierarch for credibility early in the expansion process. After the Panthers overcame overwhelming odds to land the franchise by a unanimous vote in October 1993, McCormack was first general manager before being named president.

If anyone could meet McCormack's standard it is Mills, who became a Panthers standard-bearer.

"Sam Mills has meant a lot to this organization and has set a high standard for our players both on and off the field. It is only fitting that he is recognized with the Carolina Panthers highest honor," said Jerry Richardson.

While Mills had a long NFL career, his accomplishments with the Panthers were the basis of his selection. His memorable interception return for a touchdown spurred Carolina to the first win in team history in 1995, and his interception against Dallas sealed the Panthers win in the NFC divisional playoff following the 1996 season.

Mills played 15 years as a professional, starting 171-of-181 NFL games and earning five Pro Bowl selections. Mills appeared in his final Pro Bowl as a representative of the Panthers in 1996 at the age of 37.

Regarded as one of the most savvy players in the game, Mills led his team in tackles 10 times and eclipsed the 100-tackle plateau in eight seasons. As a prized unrestricted free agent in 1995, he became the cornerstone of the Panthers defense and was the only player to start every game during the Panthers first three seasons.

With McCormack and Mills, an administrator and coach were recognized in the Hall of Honor. In the opening regular season game against Green Bay in 2004, the PSL owners who helped make the stadium and franchise possible were also honored at halftime. The Panthers sold over 60,000 Permanent Seat Licenses to help fund the construction of Bank of America Stadium.
